

Fire Destroys Calumet County Cheese Factory

$65,000 Blaze Burns
Ruben Laack Plant
South of Brillion

Brillion — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Ruben Laack Cheese company plant, route 2, Brillion, about 1:30 Sunday morning causing an estimated $65,000 loss.

The blaze was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Laack, Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Hintz, Collins, and Mr. and Mrs. William Eickert, rural Brillion, as they were returning from a wedding party. The Potter and Brillion fire departments worked for 31 hours to bring the blaze under control. Fire Chief Ted Krueger, Potter, said the fire apparently started in the boiler room and the attic.

Work Hampered
Lost in the fire were vats, machinery and a large inventory of dairy products.

Lack of water, temperatures near 12 below zero and a high wind hampered efforts to save the factory.

Fire Chief Oscar Beilke and Jerome Aplin of the Brillion department suffered frost bitten ears. Beilke's heel was also frost bitten.

The plant, one-quarter mile east of Potter and four miles south of Brillion, was one of the most modern in the area. Laack has been named outstanding cheese maker in the county for a number of years. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Leaking Main Forces Plants To Shut Down

Jersey City, N.J. — A leaking water main threatened cave-ins and forced schools and factories to close in a third of the city today. The break still was not discovered 12 hours after it occurred.

The danger of explosions, which earlier threatened heating systems in apartments and industrial plants, was declared to be over by mid-morning when water pressure was raised to about 35 pounds per square inch in the stricken area.

Meanwhile, a thousand policemen, firemen, city and Hudson county workers searched frantically for the break in the city's 54-year-old water system.

No trace of leaking water could be found underground or in basements.

Danger of Fires
"We have no idea where it's going," said City Engineer Harold Ohland.

Some residents moved out of the area but most remained in their homes as enough pressure to provide drinking water was restored.

Fire officials warned of the danger of fires and apparatus was rushed to a small blaze in the heart of the stricken area at 8:12 a.m. It proved to be only a garbage truck flame at Montgomery and Varick streets.

Fire Chief Thomas J. Maloney ordered the plants and schools in the area closed for the day in an effort to keep water consumption to a minimum.

U. S. Had to Outwit Friends, Foes To Get German Scientists Here

Successful launching of America's satellite, "The Explorer," is a tremendous personal triumph for the army's Dr. Werner von Braun and the 150 other German scientists working with him.

These rocket pioneers from the ruins of Adolf Hitler's Nazi empire form the backbone of our missile and satellite effort.

How did they get here? Here for the first time, from formerly secret files and U. S. intelligence sources, is the full story of a brilliantly conceived brain-snatching expedition. This is the first of seven articles.

Several Guests of the Retlaw in Fond du Lac fled to safety down this ladder during a $50,000 fire Sunday morning. The blaze swept part of the second floor of the 300-room hotel, forcing more than 200 guests—many of them in nightclothes—into the street in 8 above zero weather. (AP Wirephoto)

Damage Estimated at $50,000

Fond du Lac — Firemen carried seven persons to safety and 200 others were forced to flee into biting, near-zero cold Sunday when a fire roared through several rooms of Hotel Retlaw.

Authorities said three persons suffered minor injuries. Fire Chief Howard Munson said indications were the blaze was caused by someone smoking in bed. Munson said that if guests hadn't been warned in time, the

Torpedo Hunts For Submarines

Pasadena, Calif. — A new torpedo that is fired from a ship by rocket, lowered into the water by parachute and then seeks out an enemy submarine automatically was disclosed by the navy today.

The rocket-assisted torpedo, called RAT for short, "will extend a ship's submarine-kill zone to many miles," the navy announcement said. The device can be installed on any destroyer with 5-inch gun turrets at relatively low cost.

A spokesman said tests have shown RAT to be "exceedingly accurate."

The navy said a rocket propels RAT from a destroyer over the target area, then a parachute lowers the missile to the surface of the sea. At this point the homing torpedo plunges beneath the surface and seeks out the enemy sub.

RAT is 16 feet long, weighs 450 pounds and was developed by the naval ordnance test station, whose facilities are located here and at China Lake, Calif.

Al Olson, the manager of the hotel, said damage would amount to about $50,000.

Many of the hotel guests were delegates attending a winter conference of the Wisconsin Department of the American Legion.

Smoke in Corridors
Firemen herded guests through smoke-filled corridors to safety. Men and women, clad only in sleeping garments, grabbed draperies and wrapped themselves up to keep warm in the 8-above temperatures.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jahnke, about 35, of McFarland, Wis., shouted the first warning of the fire. She was taken to a hospital suffering from smoke inhalation.

Al Reuter, the night clerk, rushed to the rooms on the second floor of the 8-story brick building and emptied several fire extinguishers in an effort

Gives Conditional Approval to Talks

London — Prime Minister Macmillan says he is willing to take part in summit talks with the Russians—but only if they have "a reasonable prospect" of some agreement.

As President Eisenhower and other western government chiefs have, the British prime minister also called for careful preparations in advance of any top-level meeting.

Laying it on the line to Soviet Premier Bulganin, the conservative British leader replied to the Russian leader's earlier requests for a summit meeting.

Tunisia May Ask UN to Act After French Raid

U. S. Economy Good But 'Human Budget' Should be Balanced

Country Must Continue to Improve Its Services, Truman Declares

BY HARRY S. TRUMAN

There is nothing seriously wrong with our economy now that vigorous and enlightened leadership cannot quickly overcome. What we have been experiencing is a lapse of confidence by our people in what we have been doing and where we are going.

There are those who have been saying that a little recession is a good thing for the health of our economy. They would like you to believe that a temporary curb on prosperity is the way to halt runaway inflation.

This kind of thinking is like believing a little bit of war might be beneficial.

Among the measures certain of the experts Truman advocated were high interest rates and tight credit control. These—having failed to work, prices continuing to rise and unemployment growing—are now being abandoned. These very people, who are so vociferously opposed to government regulation of free enterprise, are, in effect, fooling with the most dangerous form of government manipulation.

They found $16,000 and two revolvers in the youths' room.

Arresting agents identified the boys as John George Wallace, 19, maintenance worker; Merson F. Gule, 18, metal plater; and Michael A. Berardi, 18, a stock boy.

They were arrested on a warrant charging they held up the East End branch of the Colonial Trust Co. in Waterbury, Conn., last Thursday.

John J. Sullivan, 14, was arrested in Waterbury and admitted he helped rob the bank. Sullivan implicated the others and said he wanted to back out but was afraid they would call him "chicken."

The FBI said the three youths flew to Miami under assumed names last Friday, bought new clothes, used a new rental automobile and "were really living."

Conviction on the charges carries a maximum prison sentence of 25 years.

Washington — An atomic energy commission scientist predicted today the goal of harnessing the H-bomb reaction for electrical power eventually will be achieved.

But the scientist, Dr. Richard E. Post of AEC's University of California Radiation Laboratory at Livermore, Calif., cautioned that tough technical problems remain to be solved.

There is nothing more damaging than the clamping down of sudden brakes on an expanding economy which, without adequate preparation, is jolted again by a reversal of momentum. Failure of the government to understand this in time and to intervene were contributing causes to the developing recession.

Industrial Leaders

Business and industrial leaders, as much as the consuming public, have been bewildered by the uncertainty and confusion of what the government has been trying to do. I know of no fundamental cause, nor even a temporary condition in our basic economy, to justify

Wiley Advises Claims
For German Bonds

Washington — Owners of German dollar bonds, once belayed worthless, were advised today by Sen. Wiley to put in their claims and obtain cash for them.

In a senate speech, Wiley said there are between 15 and 20 million dollars worth of these bonds waiting to be claimed by their rightful owners.

He was referring to money invested primarily by Americans in bonds issued by 92 German companies in the late 1920s which were for dollars instead of marks.

13 Senators to Offer Integration Measure

Washington — Thirteen senators joined today in proposing a bill designed to encourage racial integration of schools, and to compel compliance with supreme court rulings in that field if necessary.

The new civil rights measure also would arm the attorney general with authority to seek federal court injunctions for the protection of civil rights generally—a proposal defeated last year after a bitter battle.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) announced he was introducing the bill with twelve other senators, seven Democrats and five Republicans, as co-sponsors.

Schwartz Still Holds Post as Probe Counsel

House Subcommittee
Rejects Dismissal
Motion, 6 to 5

Washington — Bernard Schwartz, New York university lawyer who has stepped on some highly-placed toes, was continued for the time being today in his job of counsel to a house subcommittee investigating federal regulatory agencies.

But the subcommittee vote on a motion to dismiss Schwartz reportedly was 6-5, and there was a question whether this margin would stand up long.

Schwartz was asked to come before an afternoon session of the subcommittee which might produce a second vote.

Chairman Moulder (D-Mo) announced after a closed forenoon meeting, lasting an hour and a half, that a motion to dismiss the counsel had failed to pass.

Moulder did not give the vote. But committee sources reported it was 6-5. These sources also said that at least two of the members voting against the dismissal motion had indicated they felt the motion was premature and that the subcommittee should hear further from Schwartz before taking action.

Dispute With Members
An open row had developed between Schwartz and some members of the subcommittee, including Chairman Harris (D-Ark) of the parent house commerce committee.

Harris had indicated before the meeting that Schwartz' connection with the subcommittee should be severed if reports about the counsel's expense accounts for trips to New York were verified.

Moulder said that the question of Schwartz' employment "is not fully settled."

U. S. and Britain Voice Concern but Make Efforts To Smooth Over Incident

United Nations, N.Y. — Tunisia deliberated today whether to ask for U.N. Security council action on the French bombing of a Tunisian frontier village. Both the United States and Britain voiced concern over the explosive situation, but expressed hope it could be smoothed over.

In Paris, Premier Felix Gaitard came under attack for allowing military men to embroil the country in a serious diplomatic battle. He called a special meeting of his cabinet.

Tunisian Ambassador Mongi Slim delivered a protest from his government to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld yesterday. Slim told newsmen Tunisia was studying means of putting the issue before the council — the highest body in the U.N.

In Tunisia, there were cries the French had committed an act of war. The French claim the bombing was a localized military move to wipe out anti-aircraft positions manned by Algerian rebels inside Tunisia. The Tunisians said 78 persons were killed and 84 wounded in the daylight raid Saturday on Sakiet Sidi Youssef.

Restraint Urged
The U. S. State department said it was "profoundly disturbed" over the attack. In London, the British foreign office said it heard with "grave concern" of the bombing and straining by a force of 26 French warplanes.

"We deplore the loss of life," the foreign office statement said. "We consider it to be in the interests of both sides to show restraint and moderation."

Secretary of State Dulles called in French Ambassador Herve Alphand yesterday "to express our concern and seek further information," a state department statement said.

The state department was expected to try to get the French to minimize their use of "hot pursuit" against Algerian rebels fleeing into Tunisia, and to get the Tunisian government to tighten border regulations so as to reduce rebel traffic into Tunisia.

The French said the attack was to wipe out an anti-aircraft emplacement that had damaged a French plane. The attack was only against military objectives, they claimed, adding that aerial photographs showed that nine-tenths of the village remained intact.

Claim Rockets Could Hit Moon This Year

Both Army and Air Force Say They Have the Power If They Can Get Permission

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

Washington — Military missile experts say the army and the air force could shoot rockets as far as the moon this year.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the army ballistic missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., said yesterday the army could put a satellite in orbit around the moon within months, if it got permission to try. Medaris also said on a television interview that the army could send a manned expedition to the moon in 15 years.

Defense department missile specialists said the air force's 1,500-mile range Thor missile could be augmented by additional rocket stages to send a payload to the moon this year. So far, the department has given no orders for such a try.

Spotter Charge
The payload in a moon rocket would include radio transmitters for sending back information on the flight and a spotter charge to mark the rocket's impact on the moon, the experts said.

The air force's moon rocket capabilities were discussed in a Pentagon briefing which covered various advances in American missile and anti-missile missile research and development.

The army used its Jupiter-C rocket in modified form to launch America's first earth satellite, the Explorer, on Jan. 31. The Explorer still is speeding "round and round the earth," Medaris did not say what type of rocket would be used for the much bigger job of reaching the moon. Because of such factors as the moon's own speedy movements, Medaris said it would be easier to put a satellite in orbit around the moon than to hit it.

Expect Try
As for the army's more immediate satellite-launching plans, Medaris said he expects another try sometime between now and April 1. This second satellite would be the same size — around 30 pounds — but with more advanced instruments, the general said.

Thereafter, Medaris added, the army plans to move ahead in what he termed "short steps." He spoke of future attempts to launch 100-pound and 500-pound space vehicles. Russia's second Sputnik, still aloft, weighs half a ton.

He said the timing of an effort to put up a 500-pound satellite with photographic equipment depends on "how soon they tell me to go ahead and give me the money." Engineering and other preliminary work on such a reconnaissance vehicle has been under way for some time, Medaris said. But he added that the project is "not at the hardware stage."

At the Pentagon briefing, one

Grand Rapids, Minn. —

Charles K. Blandin, 85, a native of Iowa, Wis., owner of the Blandin Paper company and a former publisher of the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press, died at his home Sunday.

Blandin became publisher of the newspapers in 1915 and bought the paper mill in 1916 to supply the dailies with newsprint. He sold the newspapers in 1927 but retained the paper firm which now bears his name.

He is survived by a sister, Miss Violet Blandin of Shelby, Wis.; a grandson, granddaughter and a number of great grandchildren.

Man Dies in Farm Fire at Junction City

Junction City — Donald Mallek, 30, died Sunday in a fire that burned his parents' farm home to the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mallek, who live 1 1/2 miles north of here, said their son was sleeping in a second floor bedroom when the fire erupted in the basement about 7:30 a.m. The parents fled from a room on the ground floor.

Firemen from Junction City said the fire was fed by two tons of coal in the cellar.

Official said military scientists had the problem of building a rocket engine with one million pounds of thrust under study "for quite some time" before the senate preparedness subcommittee recently recommended an early start on such a project.

Russia reportedly has built a rocket engine of more than 800,000 pounds thrust. So far, the biggest U. S. engine is believed to be one designed to develop 300,000 pounds thrust for the 5,000-mile range Titan missile.

The missile experts discussed some space age weapons already in being and others in various stages of development. They said the navy is working toward a fleet of submarines each equipped to fire more than 10 hydrogen-bomb tipped Polaris missiles. The Polaris, planned for a range of up to 1,500 miles, is a solid-fuel rocket. With such missile armament, a sub could pack the firepower equivalent of more than 100 million tons of TNT.

One navy missile man said a Polaris equipped submarine, firing from under water, would enjoy "almost complete invulnerability to counter-measures of all kinds."

Combination
Newsman were told of plans for equipping long range, high-flying aircraft, possibly operating on nuclear or chemical power, with 1,500-mile range missiles. But it may be as long as five years before such a weapons combination is ready.

There was also word that the air force expects to test fire "the largest solid propellant motors ever built in the next few days."

The Bomarc long range anti-aircraft missile was discussed, and officials said the air force "can defend the entire children live at Patterson air United States with less than base, Dayton, Ohio, where 45 squadrons" of them.

It May be Cold in the Fox Cities, but it's nothing like this scene Sunday in Eden, N. Y. Here a motorist, like many others across New York, finds his automobile snowed in and the driveway plugged by heavy, wind-driven snow. Some roads are closed by huge drifts. Driving is perilous. Three Youths Injured In Rocket Experiments

Two High School Groups Report Some Success in Launching Homemade Missiles

By the Associated Press

Teenage boys were busy over the weekend with experiments in launching homemade rockets.

Three boys were hospitalized when their experiments backfired. One was reported in serious condition.

At Lumberton, N.C., five teenage boys said they were not discouraged with the launching of their fourth rocket. The 8-foot rocket soared to an estimated 3,000 feet and was to have ejected its passenger, a white mouse, to float down in a tiny parachute. However, the ejection mechanism did not work. The mouse was killed as the rocket buried itself in a vacant muddy field, telescoping to six feet.

'Learned a Lot'
Seven high school students at Keokuk, Iowa, said they "learned a lot" from the fourth rocket they shot into the air yesterday. The 30-inch homemade rocket went into the air some 2,000 feet, returning to earth about three quarters of a mile from its launching site. The boys have a 14-foot rocket which they hope to launch, perhaps in New Mexico. It is capable of carrying a radio transmitter and has a compartment for mice.

On the debit side in the rocket-missile field by the budding scientists were these reports: At Tiffin, Ohio, Charles Love, 17, was seriously injured when he and a companion tried to test some homemade rocket fuel. They presumably put the fuel into a 6-inch length of steel pipe with a cap on each end. There was an explosion after

Two 13-year-old California boys were injured in similar accidents.

At Sacramento, a rocket blew up in Michael Newey's face, scattered pieces of metal. The explosion occurred when Newey and a companion were putting fuel into a metal cylinder. Two of his fingers had to be amputated. He also suffered cuts on the body.

At San Bernardino, Terry Burns lost the tips of three fingers in the explosion of a homemade 2 foot long rocket.

Ripon Teacher Gets Vodka From Russians

Berlin — Phyllis Lemiesz, a 26-year-old school teacher from Ripon, Wis., got lost in a snowstorm around Berlin and received a drink of vodka from the Russians while they pondered what to do.

Miss Lemiesz was on her way from West Germany to Berlin last Friday where she was to take a job at the U. S. army school for dependents.

She said she ran into a blinding snowstorm on the 110-mile autobahn link through communist East Germany and made a wrong turn. Communist guards halted her car at a checkpoint and detained her for several hours while her case was reported to higher authorities.

"By this time I knew I was in the wrong," Miss Lemiesz said. "But everybody was very nice. Three Russian officers drove up in a jeep and asked me to follow them in my car. We drove to the Russian headquarters in East Berlin."

"I was taken to two Russian colonels who were very nice. They saw that I was cold and shaking and so they gave me a drink of vodka and a cigarette," she said.

The Russians turned Miss Lemiesz over to a member of the U. S. mission in Berlin and she was put on the right road for her destination.

Chinese Premier Hits U. S. Policy On Six Issues

Says Country Not Bothered by Non-Recognition

Hong Kong — Chou En-lai attacked the United States today for its policies toward Formosa, Korea, Indonesia, the Middle East, disarmament and Laos.

The red Chinese premier leveled the multiple charges in a foreign policy speech before the national people's congress.

In his speech broadcast by Peiping radio, Chou said China was not bothered by U. S. refusal to recognize the red regime.

The crucial issue in American-Chinese relations, he declared, lay in the fact "that the United States antagonizes the Chinese people, occupies Chinese territory (Formosa) and even wants China to accept this occupation as lawful."

Denouncing United Nations refusal to seat red China in place of Formosa, Chou said, "our government would never adhere to the U. S. attempt to create 'two Chinas.'"

He said red China was willing to see an improvement of its relations with Britain, but it would not tolerate British adherence to U. S. attempts to create two Chinas.

Supports Nehru
He said China supports Indian Prime Minister Nehru's idea for the establishment and expansion of an area free from weapons of mass destruction.

Chou hailed the founding of the United Arab republic of Egypt and Syria. He hoped it would "greatly encourage Arab countries to strengthen their solidarity, smash all schemes designed to split the Arab peoples and win even greater victories in their common struggle to safeguard national independence and to oppose colonialism."

On the situation in Indonesia, Chou charged the United States was attempting to supplant the Netherlands.

Seymour Farmer Runnerup for State Jaycee Honors

Watertown — William Tubbs, 34, Seymour, named as the outstanding farmer in Outagamie county, won a runner-up's position in the state Junior Chamber of Commerce contest.

Harold C. Gerbing, 35, route 2, Sheboygan, was named the state's outstanding young farmer. He is an operator of a 309-acre dairy farm and was cited for the growth of his herd and farm improvements.

Ted Waddell, 35, of Marshall, shared the runnerup place with Tubbs.

district to fill the seat left vacant by the death last month of Rep. Lawrence Smith, R-Racine. The board added Thomson's legislative program "failed to show any legislation beneficial to the working people of Wisconsin in the First congressional district."

Repossession of Beck's Home Reported Under Discussion by Teamsters

One of Several Cleanup Moves Being Considered by Union

Miami Beach, Fla. —

The Teamsters union bosses today were reported considering repossession of the lavish union-owned home that Dave Beck, the union's former president, built in the first place.

This is one of several "cleanup moves" reported due for discussion by Beck's successor, James R. Hoffa, and other Teamsters chiefs gathered here for an executive board meeting.

Beck was due here to plead against taking away his free lodgings.

The Teamsters, largest U. S. union with 1,400,000 members, were expelled from the AFL-CIO two months ago on grounds of corrupt leadership.

Aiming At Reform
Hoffa, now at the trucker union helm although one of those under criticism, was reported aiming at adapting a series of reforms looking toward reentry into the federation.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, has made it clear, however, that Hoffa himself must forsake any top Teamsters post before the union will be taken back into the main body of organized labor. Hoffa apparently hasn't the slightest idea of quitting.

Another move Hoffa and his advisers were reported considering is ouster of Frank W. Brewster as chairman of the Western Conference of Teamsters.

Brewster along with Beck and Hoffa was subject to senate rackety investigating committee disclosures last year. Brewster was replaced last October as an international vice president of the Teamsters, but he remained as the union's western chief.

Einar O. Mohn, just replaced as the Teamsters' administrative vice president in charge of the union's Washington headquarters, is one of those being considered to replace Brewster as Western conference chairman. Mohn is a union vice president.

Beck sold the Seattle home he now occupies to the teamsters for $103,000 under a deal under which he continued to live in it rent and tax free at union expense. There was senate committee testimony that union funds were used in part to build the home in the first place.

It was also testified that Beck got the Teamsters to buy the home because he needed funds to pay some he owed the union. Beck said he "borrowed" more than $300,000 from the Teamsters.

But Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said the money was stolen and Beck was trying to cover up.

Read Something Heavy to Promote Sleep, Says Molnar

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

My comments about reading something "heavy" to help go to sleep at night, if you have insomnia, brings this interesting note:

"It should be something big and heavy, it. Not yet, anyway. Should he too long to finish and something that takes concentration. It should be a

I'm just a doctor, not a deity. Still, diabetes on both sides of the family indicates that a high percentage of the children will be prone to have it. Diabetes will also make it more difficult to have children — which is Nature's way of solving the problem.

Marriage Their Right

If these young people want to marry in spite of this rather doleful outlook, that is their right. Marriage can be happy and successful even if not blessed with children. Childless couples adopt children to the betterment of the world. I certainly can't say don't marry.

But at age 19 and 18, they might well agree to wait a couple of years. If they still want to marry, then they've considand bleeding." The attack came at the height of the market hour while the streets and market squares were crowded. American and British officials were openly fearful that the French action had been a serious new blow to the western position in the Arab world. Communist opponents of the United States were expected to make propaganda capital out of the fact that 17 of the planes the French used in the attack were American-made—11 twin-engine B28 bombers and 6 navy Corsair fighter-bombers. Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, regarded in Washington and London as heretofore a good friend of the west, demanded that the French immediately withdraw the 20,000 troops that remained in Tunisia after the protectorate gained independence from France in 1955. He also demanded that the French give up the big naval base at Bizerte, a vital NATO position. Tunisian national guard troops took up station around all French military posts in Tunisia and French military vehicles were banned from all roads. The Tunis newspaper L'Action, an organ of Bourguiba's ruling neo-doustour party, accused the French of an act of war and asserted: "The hard reality teaches us every day that hanging onto the shirt tails of the west brings us only insults and humiliation. Assaults West. "One thing is clear: To be respected in 1958 one cannot remain a friend of the west. To be treated with consideration and courtesy one has to be a Nehru, Tito or Nasser." Tunisia's ambassador to London, Taieb Slim, called on foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. Later the Tunisian embassy stated that the bombing probably had shattered French-Tunisian friendship beyond repair. The Arab states rallied behind Tunisia. The Egyptian cabinet went into emergency session to review the incident. President Nasser's secretary of state, Ali Sabry, said Egypt "denounces to put out the flames while firemen were on their way. Reuter was treated for superficial burns.

Veterans Warn Guests
Reuter and several Legion members ran through the halls warning guests. The heavy smoke poured through the halls and blinded many when they opened their doors.

One guest said that he thought the fire warning was a joke. Firemen said they had to bang on doors several times before some guests could be persuaded to leave the building. Firemen brought the flames under control in about an hour and some guests were allowed to return to their rooms. Authorities said the actual flames were confined to several rooms on the second floor but that smoke filled most of the hallways.

Witnesses said two women became panicky and one threatened to jump. She was restrained by three men and led to safety. Ed Nagle and Don Gehring, both of La Crosse, were trapped in their room and firemen rescued them by running an aerial ladder to their window. Harry Snyder, also of La Crosse, said that when he entered the corridor he was blinded by smoke and had to crawl on his hands and knees to reach the stairway. Firemen met him and led him to the lobby. Rose Marie Cauley, 40, Milwaukee, a victim of paralysis, was carried to safety by Frank B. Gray, Milwaukee, an officer of the Legion.

everything goes well — Farrell will climb from the instrument-jammed space barrel a weary but unharmed veteran of the mysteries of space travel. Dr. Hubertus, Strughold, an astro medical research adviser at the school, will give reporters a briefing on Farrell's progress so far on his moon trip. Strughold has predicted previously that the main medical problems of space flight will be solved in three to five years. "This is one of the most important tests to date," the San Antonio Express said yesterday in a special editorial. "It could be—but no authority has yet made the claim—the final type of testing before an actual space flight by rocket."

The same air inside the cabin is being used over and over with chemicals removing carbon dioxide and new oxygen being added. The heat inside the cabin is kept at 85 degrees or lower. Explorer, the first U. S. Satellite, had radioed that its interior is around 85 degrees. All of Farrell's food for the seven day trip is inside the cabin. Most of it is in concentrated and dehydrated forms. An electrically heated cup near one elbow will furnish hot soup. Moisture from his breath, perspiration and other waste moisture is purified for reuse as drinking water. Other wastes are taken care of chemically. He can push a button and deodorize his space cabin. Another button increases or decreases the humidity. At carefully scheduled intervals the experts outside the cabin flash instructions to Farrell on a television screen a few inches before his eyes. He may be asked to twiddle his thumbs to test muscular reactions, or he may be given a complicated problem in working the controls of his make believe space ship. A portable TV camera inside the cabin relays all Farrell's movements to monitor sets outside. In an emergency, coverings could be ripped off the portholes and Farrell could be seen directly through thick glass windows.

In moments of relaxation he hears hi-fi music piped into the cabin from a special selection of records.

Most Badger Cities Believe Slowdown Seasonal Slump

BY HARRY CHANDLER

Milwaukee — Despite abnormally heavy unemployment in some localities Wisconsin communities aren't too worried at the moment about the business recession.

A cross section of principal Wisconsin cities participating in a survey conducted by the Associated Press, indicated they view the business slowdown, as a seasonal slump.

But if the slowdown continues for three or four months they agree that the state is in for trouble.

Unemployment is causing the most worry. The picture is darkest in the industrialized communities along the shore of Lake Michigan.

Consider these figures:

Milwaukee — 25,000 unemployed as of Feb. 1. That represents 5.2 per cent of the total work force. A year ago 14,000 were out of work, 2.9 per cent of the work force.

Racine — 2,690 jobless of a working force of 22,981 compared with 2,165 and 24,011 a year ago.

Kenosha — 2,100 unemployed. Last year's average daily unemployment load was 1,930.

Sheboygan — 1,350 reported idle. 4.5 of the work force against 920 or 3.1 a year ago.

In the state at large employment in January dropped to 1,444,700 workers from 1,483,900 in December of 1957. A loss of 39,200 workers. Unemployment compensation was paid to 54,500 persons in January of this year compared with 32,900 a year ago.

Special Session Asked

Most disturbed by employment conditions is the Wisconsin CIO Council which believes Gov. Thomson should summon the legislature to deal with the matter. Up to now, the chief executive hasn't felt it necessary.

The CIO said the number of production workers in plants employing affiliated locals was off 19 per cent from the peak of last year. Charles Schulz, state CIO president, said there was no disposition on the part of labor officials to get panicky about the problem but the CIO survey shows clearly that we have something serious on our hands.

Willett S. Main, Milwaukee regional director of the Wisconsin State Employment Service, takes the position that the situation would be serious only if conditions continued to worsen for the next three or four months.

Working Hours

Reduction of working hours, sometimes voluntarily on the part of workers in the interest of job sharing, has been general throughout the state. Overtime has been disappearing. Some plants are working their men less than 40 hours per week.

Retail business is slow, but business men ask, "Isn't it all ways slow at this time of the year?"

There is considerable optimism over recovery prospects. Joseph Fagan, Madison, an executive of the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce, thinks the month of March will be the turning point.

"The peak of unemployment compensation claims was reached during the week of Jan. 11," said Fagan. "This follows the normal pattern of previous years. Early forecasts for 1958 were a little too optimistic because the demand for goods was not as high as predicted."

March May Decide

"The big problem in Wisconsin is to balance our inventory in manufacturing. Credit is being extended and eased. I feel that the month of March will be the determining point. There are some back orders going into manufacturing plants. The banks report that checking accounts and saving accounts are holding steady."

"My conclusion is that people have purchasing power. The question is, will they use it?" March should tell.

Some manufacturing firms are hiring instead of laying off. The J. I. Case Co. farm machinery plant at Racine has hired over 400 persons in the last two months.

Two General Motors plants at Janesville—Fisher body division and Chevrolet—are operating at full schedule—two shifts with the greatest number of employees ever, 4,900.

Hires More Workers

American Motors Corp., with automobile plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, currently employs 12,100 compared with 7,799 a year ago.

Manitowoc reported conditions generally "not bad." The Manitowoc Marine Corp. has a $1,200,000 contract to supply 101 steel landing crafts and that will help.

Appleton noted that employment in the Fox Cities area was running about the same as last year. Superior said there were the usual seasonal layoffs with employment down slightly.

The Manitowoc Shipbuilding Co. at Manitowoc has been hiring steadily in skilled trades. The Manitowoc Engineering Co., is down 30 per cent in em-

Investment Program

Government Employees Pleased With Variable Annuity Plan

Post-Crescent, Madison Bureau

Madison — State and local government employees are responding enthusiastically to the variable annuity plan set up for them by 1957 legislation.

Under the new law, members of the Wisconsin Retirement fund at their option are entitled to put a part of their pension accounts into a special investment program which gives them a chance of greater earnings than under the standard investment procedure of the fund managers.

The separate investments are usually in common stock. There is a chance for losses, but there is also a good chance that their pension reserves will gain value as the promoters of the plan see it. Thus it has been billed as a hedge against inflationary trends.

In the few months since the options have been available more than 2,600 account owners have asked to have a part of their own contributions invested in the variable annuity part of the investment program. There are about 36,000 accounts in the state system representing state and local government workers.

Employees are entitled to use up to half of their individual account reserves in that manner. Most of the employees have asked to have some of their current contributions credited to the variable annuity plan, and a surprising number of them have also asked for the transfer of a portion of their past contributions.

F. N. MacMillan, administrator of the fund, told fellow members of the legislature's retirement study commission here he was surprised at the quick response to the new program by state and local workers. More of them are expected to participate in the plan as time goes on, he said.

Wedding Rings Worn In Russia

BY THOMAS P. WHITNEY

New York — The Moscow paper, Komsomol Pravda, has told a Russian girl that it's perfectly all right for her to wear her wedding ring.

Raya V. wrote the organ of the Young Communist league that her companions at work are ridiculing her and saying that she is either a Soviet style zoot suiter or religious because she wears the ring. Komsomol Pravda says they're wrong.

Sergei Isemin, an honored artist of the U.S.S.R., replied to Raya's letter. He told her he wears a wedding ring himself and the custom is neither bourgeois nor decadent. "Do everything possible and in your power to wear this ring all your life and to prevent it from losing its great and beautiful meaning," Isemin wrote.

The wearing of wedding rings in Russia is so late that Russians tend to associate it with foreigners — particularly westerners. As a result, certain young Russian "stilyagi" (zoot suiters) have started wearing wedding bands because they admire things of western origin and imitate certain western customs. Soviet communists heartily disapprove of the stilyagi and the Young Communist League crusades against them.

Some religious people in Russia wear wedding rings because the ring plays a part in the church marriage ceremony. But Isemin told Raya wedding rings are not necessarily signs of admiration of western things or of religious belief.

Doctors Report:

70% OF ALL MENTAL PATIENTS COULD IMPROVE OR RECOVER, IF...

Every year a quarter of a million people enter mental hospitals. When that happens is all hope lost? Must the door to our free, happy world stay closed forever to these unfortunate people?

The answer is an emphatic "No!" Mental illness today is not hopeless. In fact, with what science already knows about mental illness, 70% of all mental patients could improve or recover completely! Why don't they? Simply because most mental hospitals do not have the staff, the equipment, and the facilities they need to put this scientific knowledge into everyday practice!

And that's why we turn with hope to you! You can do so much because there is so much to be done. Your understanding and support can help people suffering from mental illness get well. You can help them return to their families, their jobs, their lives!

We who have never faced the darkness of mental illness can do much to bring others out of it. Today, won't you please work with and support your local Mental Health Association?

The New Party Chairmen

The major political parties of Wisconsin will fight their 1958 campaigns from a position of equality in one important respect — both have entrusted the commands of their campaign machinery to new chairmen who have never before been responsible for running campaigns.

The Democrats' Patrick J. Lucey of Madison was chosen last October and thus has had several months of seasoning in his assignment and a greater opportunity to ready his forces for the ballot box competition this year. The Republicans recently were notified without warning that their incumbent leader had quit, and they turned to Claude J. Jasper of Madison to replace him.

Both of these new party chieftains are representative men, in the sense that they have had previous exposure to the mechanics and meaning of party work. Both are comparatively young, able, articulate and intelligently partisan. We won't presume to read their minds, but it may be supposed that both may some day reap rewards for their currently unpaid service, assuming the prosperity of their respective parties.

There is an interesting twist in the occupational identity of these men. Republicans generally in modern times have been led by business executives. But Jasper is a lawyer — an everyday practicing lawyer — and to that extent he differs from most of his predecessors.

Democratic captains, on the other hand, have tended largely to be lawyers in the past but today the party has turned to a businessman. Lucey is the head of a Madison realty sales corporation.

This switch of form may suggest that party and occupational lines in our political system are not as rigid as some persons have sometimes assumed. It is eminently clear that the Democrats would not have come within shooting distance of their Republican rivals in recent years if their only votes came from the more readily identifiable pressure groups associated with their policies. It is equally obvious that the Republicans would not have won the resounding majorities that have entrusted them with rule in this state for so many years if their interests were exclusively devoted to business and businessmen, as some of their critics have persistently alleged.

These columns often have expressed respect for those sturdy-minded citizens among us who are willing to undertake the burdens of essential party work. To Mr. Jasper and Mr. Lucey we would, accordingly, extend our best wishes for a vigorous, honest and illuminating competition of the parties in this election year.

One Means of Federal Aid

In the general concern over our educational institutions there is a far greater chance than before of Congress authorizing some sort of legislation for federal aid to education. A non-educator has come up with a unique suggestion designed to prevent federal control of the schools following the federal money.

Robert Heller, a Cleveland management consultant and new chairman of the National Citizens Council for Better Schools, has suggested that increases in state and local school taxes be deducted in toto from individual and corporation federal income taxes. This would not be a percentage deduction as already exists, but would be based on the increase itself rather than the individual's federal tax.

The plan has merit. It would do away with the necessity of hiring several hundred more employees to supervise the handing out of federal funds to local schools or states. Local school boards could raise budgets for higher pay for good teachers or strengthened curriculum or additional buildings according to local needs as decided by local citizens, rather than according to some formula of standards devised in Washington. The main drawback is that federal taxes would have to be raised to counteract the deductions and such raises would be nationwide rather than merely in areas which have let their schools slip so that aid is badly needed.

If Congress is going to accept some sort of a federal aid project, every means possible for keeping control at the local level should be devised. Mr. Heller's idea has that advantage.

Coffee Break Is Part of the Job Now

The Wisconsin Supreme Court has given its blessing to the coffee break at least to the extent that anyone going out for a snack is protected by the terms of workmen's compensation laws. This is not surprising since it has long been the policy in Wisconsin to include under the workmen's compensation provisions all injuries to workmen that can be construed as having occurred "in the course of his employment."

In the case setting the precedent on coffee breaks, however, the injured workman had not sought to be included. He was injured in an automobile accident while on the way to his mid-morning coffee and he was a passenger in a car driven by one of his employers. He got into court by suing both his employer and the driver of the other car involved in the accident. The insurance companies covering the two cars involved asked that the case be dismissed on the ground that the injured man was covered by workmen's compensation insurance. The circuit court refused the motion to dismiss on the ground that the complainant was "not within the scope of his employment at the time of the accident."

The Supreme Court, however, held the coffee break is a well established custom in business and industry throughout the nation. Further, the court said it was committed to the "personal comfort" doctrine in construing this law. Since the drinking of a cup of coffee during working hours tends to add to the employee's personal comfort it is held to be in the course of his employment as much as wielding a hammer or a saw.

Sometime in the future this ruling may prove a boon to a worker who scalds himself with hot coffee or is injured by falling off of a restaurant stool. We don't know how the plaintiff feels in the instant case but he was suing two drivers for $50,000 each and may have had high hopes of winning.

Pass the (Hic!) Caviar

Two apparently unrelated news items may have some relevant connection after all.

The State department has donned sackcloth and is making its annual plea to Congress to increase the appropriation for entertainment expenses of our diplomats. Party-wise, it seems, we don't compete even with small, unimportant countries, and our representatives in foreign lands have to dip into their own pockets whenever they want to wine and dine the bigwigs. Congress, apparently not treated to cocktails by the State department, last year slashed the request by a third.

The other item is that a scientist has discovered a substance which tends to relieve tensions and high blood pressure and lessens the tendency of alcohol to make one light-headed. This substance is present in large quantities in caviar.

We would suggest, therefore, that, if Congress likes the allowance for entertainment so American diplomats can keep up with the Khrushchevs, it specify that a percentage of the money must be spent for caviar for cocktail-sipping State department officials. They, at least, then may keep sound heads while their guests live it up and sign all sorts of incriminating documents.

It may be that the Russians are already ahead of us in this field, too. Vodka and caviar must be a large item in the Kremlin's budget.

What Others are Saying

Good for Blizzard's Gizzard?

From the Richmond Times-Dispatch

"Synthetic Tree Cheers Men at Pole" said the headline, alluding, of course, to the Christmas symbol and our Geophysical Year pioneers, stationed at the coldest, most southerly point on the globe.

Any tree, synthetic or natural, would be a cheering sight, in that treeless, frozen waste of Antarctica—yet to us the real news in that story from the upsidedown part of the world, was about "Blizzard."

Blizzard is the "new station dog" of the United States South Polar colony. He was born in Antarctica less than a year ago—hence had never seen a tree.

So when Blizz was left alone with the live, 4-foot evergreen that had been flown in from New Zealand, he did what northern Eskimos did with the candles of Arctic explorers. They ate 'em. Blizz ate the tree— "trunk, roots, soil and all," said the AP Christmas day dispatch.

The AP story did not reveal the gastric effects of this horticultural debauch. It remained discreetly mum about the effect of pulpwood, needles and roots on Blizzard's innards.

Since dogs are able to digest bones, ship pers, felt hats, and the stuffings of upholstered furniture, Blizzard's meal of resin and woodpulp may have been just what the modern vet would have ordered to add vitamins to Blizz's diet.

Presumably canned biochemicals were not enough to satisfy the cravings of a growing pup, so when he saw the first green stuff he'd ever seen, he went for it with the zest of puppyhood.

The dog food business is an enterprising business. It would not astonish us to read advertisements, some months hence, singing the praises of a Frozen Premiumated New Zealand Evergreen—Pep For Your Pup—Even at 100 Below.

'Well, I see Harold got him to swallow something'

Breeds of Dogs Just Something Hung on Them by Mere Mortals

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY (Copyright, 1958)

I shall now be repressed or suppressed by the Cocker Spaniel Anti-Discrimination society, generally known as CSADS. I live in terror of what they may do to me. For the cocker spaniels are up on legs against me as a cocker spaniel hater, a man of violent prejudices, a follower of Hitler and other vile creatures.

Sokolsky

I plead that some of my best friends are cocker spaniels, on faith, my true love is Joe, the keeshond, but my prejudices against other dogs are only skin deep. True to tell, my old dog, Browne, now deceased and gently buried on the slope of a hill, in a grove of young hemlocks, under a blanket of petunias and sweet alyssums, was what goes by the name of a plain mutt, without significant ancestry.

Browne was a lovable dog whose memory remains green among all who knew her because she was so gentle and kindly, so grateful for small rewards and always knowing her place. Joe is not like Browne at all. He likes to rule and lord it over mere mortals whose blood does not go back, at least to William of Orange. Browne would obey and be quiet, but Joe has to talk which can, indeed, become a bore. For, those who have nothing to say always want to be heard.

No prejudices The cocker spaniels may be assured that I have no prejudices against any dog, no matter what its color, shape or ancestry. Even when a dog goes by such a name as Hans Von Smitzen-tress, it is only because some human was trying to show off. That is why I switched from Walsburg to Joe. Joe sounds more indigenous, more like a fellow who belongs to the American Legion and drinks wet beer.

Any dog can tell by a sniff who is a phony and who is the real thing. And to dogs, such appearances as "your excellency" and "your highness" mean not a thing. Either you're a good guy or a louse and a dog somehow knows which it is by smell. He requires no introductions, no bank references, no public relations counsel, no peephole columnist's puffs.

Joe has an amazing ancestry. Only a dog, a horse or a bull could have such a perfect ancestry as the bred, bred animals have. Man, alas, suffers from black sheep creeping into the best of breeds. So that where a father is one of the most distinguished men in his line, the son might be a good-for-nothing, lying rascal whose greatest ambition is to serve as a flunkie to a good-for-nothing gal.

Surely no dog would wear false colors, as some dames borrow jewelry for the occasion, the hope of the jeweler being that somebody will buy it. Also not even a poodle would like to have the color of its hair changed constantly, so that even its best friend would not know it. And if dogs were as fastidious as humans, they would constantly be changing their odors. But a constant canine can always recognize the perversions of the human mind.

Dogs Wouldn't Stay

I once knew a man who was so concerned about what others thought of him, that he was consumed with rage and envy. He particularly hated head waiters who gave him a table in a less conspicuous spot than he was accustomed to. His wife garbed herself in all the finery she could put on herself without becoming so loaded that she could not walk. Her jewel collections were enormous beyond belief and were sometimes worn in such profusion as to seem to be invitations. She had bobbed her nose and dyed her hair, and plucked her eyebrows and slenderized her figure.

But she could never get a dog to love her or her husband. The dog always ran away. I was once talking to a pair of their cocker spaniels who were glad to have a word with a friend.

It seems as though they were never allowed indoors. What were they, lions or tigers or something? Dogs belong to a family and like to play with children and they dislike being ignored as though they were just plain animals. So they ran away and, alas, one was killed by an automobile and the other came home with its tail down. Because home, even among such people, is better than being killed by an automobile.

Speeding Trucks Still Problem on Highways

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The passenger car driver was startled as the huge truck roared past him in the night-time on a curve, and without the usual courtesy of a horn.

The truck raced at 15 miles over the legal speed limit, and because of the warnings about ice hazards on the roads, the irate passenger car driver was unable to overtake him for 12 miles in order to scribble down his registration number for a check with the motor vehicle department.

The vehicle was a part of the fleet of one of the state's largest transportation companies. The story was the usual one. Management has instructed drivers to be careful and to observe the laws of the road. Transport schedules are fixed to allow compliance with the speed laws, among other rules. But drivers sometimes push their vehicles past the limits in order to have more free time at the coffee stops. Insurance company monitors are patrolling the roads. A bigger police patrol than ever before is at work. But not all of the offenders are apprehended.

THE TRUCK LAWS

It is not always remembered, by truck drivers and policemen especially, that this state has a special open road speed limit for the larger commercial trucks.

Against a speed limit of 65 miles for the lighter vehicles, there is a limit of 45 miles for the heavy vehicle. Most officers will permit a tolerance of five miles or so.

That law was not adopted because of safety considerations alone, or because of any discriminatory spirit against the trucking industry. It reflects the conviction of the legislature that heavy trucks damage the roads and heavy trucks at high speeds pound them to pieces even more quickly.

Most travelers who take note of the driving habits of truckers probably have noticed that the violations of that limit are far more frequent than are the violations of the private automobile drivers.

This driver confesses to some annoyance on the matter, and therefore has consulted the arrest records of the state motor vehicle traffic patrol for 1957. They show that 1957 trucker arrests for violation of speed limits amounted to 868. Many other traffic violations were counted against the truckers, for a total of 2,340. The arrest tickets of the county traffic patrols, which could be more numerous because the county police have a larger aggregate strength, are not readily available.

THE LESSON

Trucking companies have spent a good deal of money and imagination in training their drivers. Courteous and safe drivers represent a considerable public relations asset to the transportation company. Most of the men who drive heavy trucks on the open road, it may be conceded readily, are careful and helpful fellows.

But the arrest record is an ominous one — remembering the vulnerability of the trucking industry in the political system and remembering that their drivers represent a highly select and trained group.

Insurance costs for the transport companies have become such a sizeable item of overhead cost that some of them are now talking about organizing their own mutual insurance company. The private driver, going about his own business on the public roads and observing some of these offenders among the professionals, might wonder why the insurance penalties are not persuasive in weeding them out.

U.S. Economy Good, Harry Truman Says

measures taken by the government which have led to the improvement and decline of public confidence.

The fact is our resources are so great and our industrial capacity so vast and our skills so highly developed there is not the slightest reason for concern about our economic future. What does concern us is that we are being held back from the growth and development of our opportunities for continuing prosperity.

Certainly, the nuclear age has opened vast new frontiers and unlimited opportunity and new challenges to our capacities and institutions. We should act boldly and imaginatively and not be the prisoners of statisticians and bookkeepers whose outlook must be confined to the balance sheet of today with no concern for tomorrow.

I have just completed a careful study and analysis of the new budget now before congress. Having had a personal hand in the preparation of eight budgets, I never lost sight of the desirability and the necessity of achieving a balanced budget. Prior to the communist invasion of Korea we did balance the federal budget and had a surplus to apply to the national debt. But in trying to balance the budget we must recognize the government's paramount obligation to the people for their well-being.

Human Budget

In my opinion, we have been paying too much attention to the need for balancing the budget without taking into account, at the same time, the greater need of balancing the human budget.

This means we must continue and improve the welfare services undertaken by the federal government to provide for the growth and development of that the American economy is international in scope in its interdependence and influence on the fortunes and destiny of the entire free world. We have learned from experience that a serious setback to the economy outside the United States is bound to affect our own economy.

We should leave no opening for Russia to displace us in the extending of economic aid in the Middle East and elsewhere where our security and interdependence are so important to the free world. We know how Russia uses economic aid as a wedge to achieve penetration and the subjugation of people. The communist goal is always to dominate.

Our interest, on the other hand, is to help create opportunity for world prosperity in which we could share. In order to insure our need for an ever-expanding economy, as well as to help the economies of our friends and allies, we must make this program the most immediate and urgent undertaking of the government.

If we fail to understand this historic moment and act accordingly, we will have reason to regret it. This is the area in which Russia may cause more trouble in the future to the free world than perhaps she could with all her missiles and cold war propaganda.

More Imagination

I find it difficult to understand why we are not acting with more imaginative measures in this field of world economic development. There are vast areas of rich and fertile lands waiting to be used for the benefit of the peoples that possess them that are capable of feeding and sustaining populations in the hundreds of millions. This is another opportunity of helping to remove hunger from many underdeveloped nations.

And here at home there are still many new frontiers to be developed to provide fresh resources for our growing economy and to our population. Let me cite one example: There are great deposits of shale in Colorado and adjoining states containing greater potential for oil and chemicals than any other known source in the world.

Appleton Post-Crescent 7
Monday, Feb. 10, 1958

For many years the government has been actively engaged in working out techniques and designing machinery for the productive use of these resources. But in recent years this activity was abandoned and turned over to private industry which is making slow progress with it. This condition, which should be corrected at the earliest possible moment, constitutes another incident of false economy and a failure to grasp the potential needs of our industrial plant.

In another area we have taken a backward step in permitting a slow down in the development of our water resources and our mining activities. This ought not to happen in a dynamic economy.

Reasonable Balance

And we must encourage a genuinely free economy where prices, wages and profits are in reasonable balance with each other and kept in proper relationship for the general welfare of the nation and not for any one group.

Above all, let us not lose our sights on the future in any battle over the budget. Our economy has enormous capacity to undertake any requirement put against it by any necessary and honest budget.

This is a time for action. We must make decisions and keep on making them. Inevitable some mistakes will be made, but no greater mistake can be made in a dynamic world than to hesitate.

We live in swiftly moving times. It is not enough that we keep up with developments. We must manage to outpace those who now challenge our freedom and leadership.

Four Meetings Scheduled by Appleton C of C

Directors to Meet With Green Bay Leaders Thursday

Four meetings, including one between its directors and the Green Bay Association of Commerce's directors, are scheduled this week by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce.

The directors will meet at 8:15 Thursday night at Jake Skall's to discuss mutual problems and interests. Kenneth Corbett, chamber secretary, said, Appleton Chamber President Victor I. Minahan Jr., arranged the meeting.

Tax Picture
The steering committee of the industrial division will meet Tuesday noon at the Elks club to decide whether they want an advance course in the economic study just concluded after 17 breakfast meetings. John Hayes, chairman, said.

The chamber's membership committee will meet at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the chamber offices. Chairman John Conway said to report on last month's activities and to discuss plans for the next month.

A discussion of the state's tax picture, present and future, will be held at 3:30 Friday afternoon at the vocational school by the legislative committee and two representatives of the Wisconsin Taxpayers' Alliance. Committee Chairman David Bliss said.

The WTA representatives are John Reynolds, a director, and Dr. C. K. Alexander, a special WTA consultant.

Sputnik II Sighted Over Fox Cities

Sputnik II, the only Russian satellite left in the skies, was reported sighted over the Fox Cities about 5:41 this morning. The man-made moon was right on the schedule predicted for its latest passes over the valley.

Several accounts said the baby moon appeared to be a bright orange and mounted the heavens rapidly moving from southwest to northeast.

Edward V. Krueger, 1707 S. Carpenter street, said it appeared as an overbright star which he said, he lost sight of when it was from 30 to 45 degrees above the horizon.

Early risers who saw the satellite said it was visible from one to two minutes.

Explorer the American satellite, probably won't be visible this far north, according to the path predicted for it.

Runaway 15-Year Old Returned to Hospital

A 15-year-old Green Bay girl who was under treatment for a mental disorder at St. Elizabeth hospital, fled the hospital Sunday afternoon. She was returned about one hour later by persons who declined to give their names to hospital officials.

been immense. They gave America its first shove into the missile and space age.

Without them, we might now be many years behind Russia in the race for trans-oceanic rockets and the conquest of outer space.

With them we have a fighting chance.

The operation to get them was a military mission of vision, intensive intelligence and sometimes brilliant exploits, all stamped "top secret" at the time.

To do the job our military commanders joined hands with the German scientists to outwit the Russians and even hoodwink our allies. The British and French. Anything went, from smuggling to kidnapping.

Red Tape
Audacious moves in the rubble of Germany yielded a rich harvest of German brains, but for a time we almost flattered it away by red tape, tumbling and dispute back in Washington.

As a result, Russia got many German scientists whose desire to come to the U. S. was frustrated.

Here for the first time is the full story, based on previously classified Pentagon documents and the personal accounts of scores of German specialists and American intelligence officers.

Car Bounces From Trailer Into Auto

Hortonville — A car driven by Alfred Riojas, 20, route 1, Hortonville, struck a semi-trailer owned by Marquart Lumber and Milling company, Oshkosh about 11 o'clock Friday night.

The Riojas car bounced back and struck a car driven by Sharon Fulcer, 16, route 2, Hortonville. It shoved the Riojas car back into the trailer, pushing it ahead nine feet into a car owned by Reinhold Harp, 23, route 1, Hortonville, according to police.

Two passengers in the Fulcer car received injuries. Mary Nickel, 15, Hortonville, received a bruised right leg and Diana Strong, 16, also of Hortonville, received a bump on the head.

Two passengers in the Riojas car escaped uninjured. They were Shirley Kreutzberg, 15, and Ronald Kreutzberg, 14, both of route 1, Hortonville.

Riojas said he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car and didn't see the trailer.

Police Find Appleton Woman Dead in Home

Mrs. Anna Schmieg, 70, 1108 N. Division street, was found dead in her home Sunday afternoon by police after a neighbor was unable to attract the woman's attention by knocking on the door.

Mrs. Schmieg had suffered from a heart condition for several years and her husband, Robert, recently was hospitalized. She talked to an acquaintance about 6 o'clock Saturday evening. County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said death occurred later Saturday evening.

She was born in Appleton and lived here all her life.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church with burial in Highland Memorial park. Friends may call at the Wichmann Funeral home from 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon until 9:30 Wednesday morning and then at the church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Clement, Des Plaines, Ill.; two brothers, Ed Steinacker, Appleton, and Fred Steinacker, Greenville; and five grandchildren.

Red China Tries to Halt Flight From Farm to City

Official Figures Show 570,000 Peasants Deserted Country in Less Than Year

BY JOHN RODERICK
Hong Kong—Red China is trying desperately to choke off a mass flight from farm to city. Official announcements reveal that 570,000 peasants left the countryside for the cities between autumn 1956 and 1957's summer harvest. Another 110,000 packed up and left the farms last fall in the provinces of Shantung, Honan, Anhwei and Kiangsu.

"Though the governments of the areas concerned have succeeded, in a measure, in preventing the outflow and in sending the persons home, they are still short of completely checking the tide," the official Peoples Daily reported.

The campaign to keep farmers on the farm coincides with a vast drive to resettle millions of intellectuals, shopkeepers, engineers, government workers and party hacks in the country. Already unhappy at having been uprooted unceremoniously from their jobs and careers, the new white-collar farmers have been further depressed by the fact that lifetime farmers themselves have found agriculture too difficult and unregarding.

Issue Directive
The ruling state council and the communist central committee issued a joint directive "on prevention of the blind exodus of the rural population."

"One of the reasons for the exodus is that the persons involved have allowed themselves to be taken in by reports that jobs are easy to find in cities with the result that they admire urban life and look down upon agricultural labor," the Peoples Daily said.

It suggested that peasants be told that there is, in fact, a surfeit of workers in the cities. "We must also educate peasants to like what they are doing — agricultural production," it continued. "This has a bright future, and as agriculture occupies an important place in the national economy, its support will be vital to socialist industrial construction. Rural life at the moment may be difficult, but this is a necessary prelude to abundant life."

Meager Living
The Chinese farmer has always been one of the most depressed of human beings. He scratches out a meager living from his exhausted land by dint of unremitting labor, from dawn to sundown. The coming of communist cooperatives has increased the national productivity, but his lot still is one of the poorest on earth. He seldom eats meat and is lucky to get enough of the rice he now cultivates for a regime whose motto is "the state first, the farmer second."

Under the communists he at last has been recognized as the salt of the earth. But after the compliments have ended, he again has been asked, as have his ancestors before him, to work even harder, for something he does not yet understand nor is likely to see — the industrial greatness of China.

Both Sides Seem to Feel Political, Military Stalemate Needed in Europe

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

The exchange of letters and speeches which is now going on between Moscow and the west-ern capitals is showing, as one studies it closely, there is a military and political stalemate not likely to be broken soon or easily.

In the Soviet s t a tements there is nothing, so far as I can see, to suggest they think have or are on the way to having, decisive military superiority. There is much to support the view of Allen W. Dulles that, "they recognize that nuclear war at this time would result in devastating damage to them."

No doubt the Soviet utterances are mostly propaganda. But it is pacifist propaganda, and that is not the kind which a government, intending to make war, would dare to use among its own people. The Soviet talk about peace is meant, of course, to soften up the west. But unlike Hitler's propaganda, for example, it is not designed to toughen up the people at home. Quite the contrary. It is the kind of propaganda that must soften them up too.

The overall effect of the talking war is to support the conclusion that there is a stalemate arising from a balance of terror.

Political Stalemate
 Emmeshed in the military stalemate there is a political stalemate. It is at once accurate and significant, I believe, to say each side wants the other side to go home, that each side wants disengagement by the other side without disengagement for itself.

There is a stalemate because there is not in sight any willingness on the momentary issue of disengagement to give as well as to take. That is why in the existing situation there is no prospect of a negotiated settlement at the summit or tiation. anywhere else. The situation is likely to last until the course of time it is eroded by events. In this stalemate, the western position is that our objectives are the reunification of Ger-many and the liberation of east-ern Europe; these objectives are to be achieved by the with-drawal of the red forces to the Soviet Union while the NATO forces remain where they are. No serious person can believe this is a negotiating position. It is in fact a policy of stale-mate in a divided and occupied Europe.

The Soviet position is the same as ours — only in re-verse. They want us to evacu-ate our armies and dismantle our foreign bases throughout its own side. In this stalemate both all-they dominance in eastern Ger-many and eastern Europe, negotiate on the main issue of This, obviously enough, is also disengagement. How long is a policy of stalemate, and not stalemate likely to endure? The

Prince Aly Begins UN Work

Millionaire Playboy Will be Pakistan's Representative

Karachi, Pakistan—Prince Aly Khan went to work at the foreign office today to prepare for his new job as Pakistan's permanent representative to the United Nations.

An aide said the 46-year-old playboy prince, former husband of movie actress Rita Hayworth and British socialite Joan Yarde-Buller, is anxious "to learn all about diplomacy and foreign affairs."

The foreign office said it is planning to send Prince Aly to U.N. headquarters in New York as soon as possible. He is now question cannot be answered concretely and definitely. But we can suppose, I believe, the stalemate will last until it is broken either by a decisive turn in German interior politics, or by a great upheaval in eastern Europe, or, what is not improbable, by the two occurring together.

What is sure and clear is that neither Khrushchev in Moscow nor Secretary Dulles in Washington is likely to be able to break the stalemate. (Copyright, 1958) studying Pakistan's foreign policies in consultation with top diplomats.

A foreign office source said the millionaire prince may accept only a token salary of one rupee a month (21 cents).

Adopt Nationality
 Aly Khan got the U.N. post after his father, the late Aga Khan, passed him over and named Aly's son, Prince Karim, his successor as head of the far-flung Ismaili Moslem sect. Aly Khan is now an Iranian citizen but will probably adopt Pakistani nationality before leaving here.

Although the Aga Khan had a notable career in world affairs and served as president of the League of Nations in 1937, some conservative Ismailis criticized his son for accepting a post as anybody's employee.

Since Aly Khan is the father of their spiritual leader, they said, "the head to which millions of Ismailis bow should not bow before others."

Federal Aid Promised to State Mining Industry

Madison—Gov. Thomson said Thursday he had been promised help for Wisconsin's lead and zinc mining industry which claims it has been forced to shut down or operate at a loss each time import regulations are changed.

The governor said also that he has urged members of the Wisconsin congressional delegation to back efforts to boost duties on imported lead and zinc in order to provide a more stable margin for operations by the U. S. industry.

Thomson said he contacted the U. S. Tariff Commission after meeting with Wisconsin mining representatives in Darling-ton late last month.

Carnival, Sweetheart Ball Scheduled Saturday, Feb. 15

A carnival atmosphere will take over the Appleton Elks club Saturday night when club members and their ladies gather for the annual Mardi Gras party.

The costume event will begin with dinner from 6 to 9 o'clock and a local orchestra will play for later dancing. The Mardi Gras theme will be carried out in decoration and prizes will be awarded for the best and most unique costumes.

Arthur Van Kleeck, party chairman, is being assisted by Carl Peotter, general social chairman, and committee members, including Peter Medd, Roy Schumacher, George Acker, Robert Crabbe, Robert Gmeiner, William Wenzel and Gerald McLaughlin.

Masonic dance club members have selected a hearts and flowers theme for their Sweetheart ball which will be staged Saturday night at the Masonic temple. Cupids and hearts decorations will be used for table decor at the 6:30 dinner and a semi-formal dance will be held from 8:30 to 12:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Hanne-mann, co-chairmen of the annual dinner dance, have announced a local orchestra has Mrs. Ed Pope, Mr. and Mrs. been engaged for the evening Gerald Ruseh, Mr. and Mrs. Dinner service will be handled Lloyd Streich, all of Appleton, by the Job's Daughters. Artist Series Performer

Babin Skyrocketed to Fame Over Weekend

Stanley Babin, young concert pianist who will appear on the Lawrence Community Artist Series at 8:30 Thursday night, skyrocketed to fame over one weekend.

Though he had appeared successfully in Town Hall recitals before that time, once as the first place winner of the Concert Artists Guild Town Hall Recital award, it was the weekend of Oct. 22 and 23, 1956, that established him as an artist in the minds of the average New York concert-goer. On this weekend he made his debut with the New York Philharmonic and also appeared as soloist

Acclaimed By Critics

His performance of Beethoven's C Major Piano Concerto with the Philharmonic under Mitropoulos caused the New York Times to comment: "The breadth of his musical as well as technical approach to the piano, the intensity of expression, the well-trained steady fingers, were all there." His playing of the demanding Emperor Concerto on the following day prompted Perkins of the New York Herald Tribune to say that his interpretation "had a stimulating momentum, with musicality of tone and prevalent fluidity."

Stanley Babin, not to be confused with the Babin of the Vronsky-Babin team, was born in Latvia 25 years ago and spent his childhood in Israel, where he made his professional debut at the age of 13 at Museum Hall in Tel Aviv.

Wife Former Dancer

Babin concertized extensively in Israel and at the age of 14 he achieved his dream of coming to the United States. He entered New York's famous High School of Music and Art and in 1950 won a scholarship at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. His teachers include such famous names as Samarin, Schnabel, Vengerova and Steuermann.

Babin lives in a Manhattan apartment with his wife, Resa, formerly a ballet dancer with the Metropolitan Opera company. The Babins like "light" movies and "heavy" books, long walks in the country and in general "just doing things together."

WSWS of EUB Plans Program on United Service to Church

Women's Society of World Service will meet at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the United Brethren church. Mrs. Edward Elletson has planned a program on "Strengthening the Church Through Cooperation."

Hostesses will be the Mes. Leona Luebke, Erben Krueger, William Falk and Walter Olson.

Golden-Agers Plan Valentine Potluck Supper

Appleton Golden-Age club will meet at 6:30 Thursday night for a potluck supper and program at Jefferson school. Each member and guest will bring a dish to pass and their own sandwiches and table service. Mrs. Ann Cowan, Welcome Wagon Civic league hostess for February, and her committee will serve dessert and coffee.

In place of an exchange of cards, A Valentine "kitty" is planned. Miss Laura Livermore will show a travel film for the program and February birthdays will be observed. Mrs. Kristine Barney is in charge of the birthday table arrangements.

Colman Hall Reception Site

An open house for Lawrence students and faculty was held Sunday afternoon at Lucinda Darling Colman hall, the dormitory for 130 women which was completed a year ago as the first project on the college's current development program.

Miss Carol Davy, senior from Nashotah, was chairman of the affair. She was assisted by Miss Susanna Fortney, Viroqua; Miss Margaret Ruf, Elm Grove, and Miss Gail Wente, Dundee, Ill.

A special invitation was extended by the freshman girls living at Colman to the freshmen at Ormsby, and today, the Ormsby freshmen will return the invitation.

Chapter AT to Meet

A program on Africa will be given by Mrs. W. D. Kaulum when Chapter AT of the PEO Sisterhood meets at 7:30 to night at the home of Miss Annabelle Wolf, 526 N. Meade street. Miss Marjorie Williams will be co-hostess.

How Soon Is Too Soon? Widower Considering Marriage Inquires

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm a man 71 years old who has been married twice and widowed both times.

My life has been a happy one and I have a lovely daughter and a stepdaughter.

At present I'm keeping a woman eight years younger than myself. She's pleasant, attractive and sensible. Her husband has been dead many years. I want to marry this woman but my wife has been gone only six months and my step-daughter is against it.

She says it would be very disrespectful to her mother's memory if I should marry again so soon. I'm a lonely man and I'm sure this woman and I could be happy together. We are not young any more and time is precious. Is six months too soon? — E. A. P.

It's how you feel that counts. No one has the right to tell the next person how soon is too soon. You've been of age for 50 years and you don't need your step-daughter's consent. If you want to marry this woman, go ahead. Life is for the living.

DEAR ANN: I'm a heart-broken grandmother who needs some advice. This is my story: Seven years ago my daughter split up with her no-good husband and asked me to take her seven-month old baby until she "got on her feet." I took the boy and he's been the light of my life. He calls me "Mummy" and I feel closer to him than I ever did to my own three.

Four months ago I had a letter from my daughter saying her second marriage failed and that she and her first husband (the no good one) were going to get married again and try to make a go of it.

They want the child back. It will kill me if I have to give the boy up. He's doing fine in school and has a wonderful home with me. What is the best thing to do? Shall I fight it? — E. L. D.

With whom are you going to fight? You must return this child to his parents now that they can provide a home for him.

Why not get a foster child through the Family Service Agency to help fill the void? A great many children need love, and apparently you have a lot of it to give. Good luck.

DEAR ANN: You will probably think I'm a nut, but I have a serious problem, and it's not funny to me. I need help. A year ago last August I married a girl I didn't care much about. I took her out a few times and admit I didn't use my head. We both drank too much which was my downfall.

When she told me she was in the family way I didn't know which way to turn. She made up my mind by threatening to take me to court. So I did the gentlemanly thing and married her.

Eighteen months have passed and there is no sign of a baby. She keeps telling me her case is very unusual and her doctor has never seen anything like it in all his years of medicine. She's gained fifteen pounds and has been wearing maternity dresses for over a year. What does this sound like to you? — ATLAS

This sounds like wonderful salesmanship — with no product. Have a persons-to-person visit with your wife's doctor and learn if there's a baby on the way now. If there is, you may rest assured it's not the same baby she was talking about a year and a half ago. That child would be walking by this time.

There is such a thing as "false pregnancy." This condition exists in the head. The victim of these delusions often experiences the physical symptoms of pregnancy — such as added weight and morning sickness. Your wife's doctor can tell you a great deal more about your wife's condition than I can.

Perfect Fit to Space Fits Big Storage Needs

Room for storage, after all, is so often just what you make it. With a good plan for using it, relatively few square feet of floor space can be wonderfully productive of places to put things. With less, or no planning at all, the same footage can be needlessly squandered.

Here's a good example of attractive space economy in a child's small room. From the bed side, under window, around a corner and along a comparatively short length of wall, a full sweep of simple furniture takes care of every need, even desk space. It's the way the furniture fits together that does it—the same number of pieces not made for each other would take up more than twice as much room. Especially now that some of it is less expensive than it used to be, such a plan is a real problem solver.

Perhaps most of all in children's rooms where it's such a help to mother to have ample places for everything so they can be trained early to put things away by themselves. (Furniture by Baumritter.) Mrs. E. E. "I am very partial to aqua and want to use it in every room. Will you suggest how to combine it with red and gray in the living room."

with pink in the bedroom, with red and white in the kitchen and with yellow and black in the bathroom?"

There are too many possibilities in each room to list, but one general suggestion may help you. Use the aqua lavishly in one room, perhaps the living room with the gray and omit or use little of the red. Then use aqua in decreasing proportions in the other rooms. Perhaps no more than a touch in one room. The overall effect will be much better this way than it would if aqua were scattered everywhere, and you will enjoy the color much more in fuller strength as it predominates in one room.

Mrs. J. T. McMI. "Now that we have remodelled our basement to give us a big family room, I'd like advice on what to put on the stairs leading down to it. Rubber stair treads, don't seem attractive enough. Perhaps most of all in children's rooms where it's such a help to mother to have ample places for everything so they can be trained early to put things away by themselves. (Furniture by Baumritter.) Mrs. E. E. "I am very partial to aqua and want to use it in every room. Will you suggest how to combine it with red and gray in the living room."

Greatness of Lincoln Revealed in His Ideals

BY ANGELO PATRI

What makes a man great? What is it within a man that makes his name a symbol for all that is fine in mankind? What immortal spirit is in a man to cause a nation to look up to him as we Americans do to Lincoln.

There is a quality of elemental nature in great men, a selfless, almost unconscious, spiritual strength and beauty that marks them from all other men. We study their lives to learn what makes them different but all we can know is it is just there as it is in a majestic mountain, a towering tree, or a boundless ocean.

In Lincoln the source of his greatness, what made him different, could not be his wealth, he had little and seemed to care less about what he had than others did. It could not be his personable appearance as men appreciate beauty, for he has been called homely, awkward, uncouth. Yet there was about him an element of attraction that made people know they were looking at an extraordinary man, a man of great dignity, benevolence and strength.

Qualities of Character
It could not be hunger for power that made him the leader of a nation in time of stress for he was humble where others, smaller men, were haughty. He was always willing to stand aside for one who could do a service for the country better than he could, or thought he could.

We are celebrating the birthday of this great American and it would be well to use the occasion to make his qualities of character known to the boys and girls of the nation he loved and to which he "gave the last full measure of devotion."

It would be well to point out to them that greatness does not demand riches. It does not demand power and place. It does not require the support of Yes-men. It does demand and sternly, the ability to know the difference between right and wrong, the difference between service and selfishness, and above all, the power to stand alone in the face of abuse, deceit and betrayal, and hold fast to the ideal to which the soul is dedicated.

It would be well, and I know it will be done in schools all their country that they in their over the land, to read the Get-

Newlyweds Make Home At Ft. Carson

Currently residing at Colorado Springs, Colo., where the bridegroom is attached to the army medical corp at Fort Carson, are newlyweds Lt. Paul R. Maes and his bride, the former Margaret A. Janssen, both of Kaukauna.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Janssen, 1218 Crooks avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maes, 708 Grignon street, all of Kaukauna.

Lt. Maes claimed his bride in a double ring ceremony preceding a 10 o'clock mass Jan. 14 at the Fort Carson chapel. Attendants were Miss Janice Norton, Hartford, Conn., and Lt. James Palomus, Fort Carson.

After the nuptials, the bridal party was entertained at the Acacia hotel and Hackney house at Colorado Springs.

The young Mrs. Maes was formerly a stewardess for United Airlines, serving aboard their Mainliner fleet out of Denver, Colo. She was employed at Thidman Pulp and Paper company, Kaukauna, prior to training with United Airlines at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Her bridegroom is a graduate of Ripon college, where he received a degree in biology and was affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega fraternity. He and his bride are graduates of Kaukauna High school.

New Orleans Launches Whirl Of Mardi Gras

New Orleans — The city took a breather today after launching the 10-day street parade festivities which reach a climax on Mardi Gras.

The first night parade will be staged Tuesday by the Krewe of Gemini. Carnival organizations are known as Krewes. They put on parades and private balls.

The Krewes of Carrollton, Orleans and Alla paraded yesterday. Crowds of people lined the streets, their hands stretching for favors thrown by Krewe-members on the floats.

Before Mardi Gras ends at midnight Feb. 18 and the ten-day season begins Feb. 19, the various organizations will have kept New Orleans dizzy with 21 parades.

The climax is the final day, when much of New Orleans dons masks and costumes for day-long merrymaking.

Three Links Club To Hold Luncheon

The Three Links club of Deborah Rebekah lodge will meet for a potluck luncheon Wednesday noon at the home of Mrs. Cordell Pruett, 919 W. Roberts avenue.

Beauty Get Feet in Shape Now for Spring

By Marian Matthews

Spring, the light hearted season, isn't far off and this is a good time to get your feet in shape for its quick pace. Many shoes will be closed back and front but some still have a way of showing off all your toes!

When you were those shoes, corns and other unattractive problem areas should be remedied in time to let you wear them with self assurance and comfort.

Treating corns at home is seldom a satisfactory relief. For best results the qualified chiropodist should be consulted. Then, employ daily care if necessary to keep the problem at a minimum. In any event, you should be able to care for your own toenails and keep skin smooth and attractive.

Daily Care
If you have a health problem of any type, such as diabetes or a circulatory disorder, be particularly careful to give your feet daily care. Ask your doctor to advise you if you aren't certain about foot health and let him examine your feet from time to time.

Wear comfortable shoes all the time. Don't get into the habit of thinking it is all right to abuse your feet when you dress for a special party or find yourself wearing a pair of shoes that were a mistake to buy in the first place.

Don't wear them—toss them out. Shoes in leathers and in design that permit air to get at your feet are a beautiful choice. Flat sandals or shoes with cut outs that do not cut or bind the foot in any place might be a good choice for wear at

Working Way Through College Tagged 'Horatio Alger' Step

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Ronald M. — I want to work my way through college.

Mr. L. M. — What a half-baked, Horatio Alger idea!

Ronald M. — I am a 17-year-old boy making plans for starting college in the fall. I am very eager to be independent and I want to work my way through. This would mean I would have to go to a school that is somewhat less expensive than the ones my parents get idea into his head. He wants for me.

My parents keep telling me deal to work your way through college. Well, it happens I did just that — and I know what it means. It means never getting enough rest, not having time for sports and other extracurricular activities and not having enough time for study. I know I could have done much better at school and perhaps gone further in my career if I didn't have to work.

Ronald has had the good fortune to be accepted in a top-ranking school and I am fortunate enough to be able to send him. Why should he be so stubborn in this harebrained notion?

The Council: Perhaps Mr. L. M. would be a little more patient with his son if he realized the boy probably wants to emulate him. Possibly Ronald idealizes the father who worked his way through college and became successful in his career and he needs to test himself against this hero figure.

Car Date Behavior

Making 'Passes' at 60 Per, Too Dangerous Say Coeds

Making "passes" at college lasses at 60 miles an hour is as dangerous as passing on a curve at that speed according to girls in the know.

The girls "in the know" are 485 attractive Mt. Holyoke college misses who based their answers on their escorts' driving behavior on a "car date."

White the crew cut companions, ranging in age from 18 to 23, were thinking of "moon and spoon," the girls were taking notes.

The notes were turned over to the American Mutual Liability Insurance company's Institute for Safer Living, who were co-sponsors of the survey.

"The day of the coonskin draped driver with a hip flask waving in the wind is apparently gone, according to the girls.

Sixty Per Cent Safe
Sixty per cent of the escorts were considered safe drivers, according to the survey.

Three out of ten were on probation. Their dates considered their only half safe.

Twelve per cent were considered a definite threat to the undergraduates ever becoming members of the alumnae—they were considered dangerous drivers.

Voted one-two by the girls as the boys most unlikely to succeed—were the lads who drove with one hand on the wheel and a heavy foot on the gas pedal.

There were the two top obvious way of talking to your husband out of his cousin's hearing.

Seating in Funeral Car

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's brother died recently. On the day of the funeral my husband was seated in the first car with the widow and his two single sisters. I was seated in the second car with other relatives. I felt very much hurt over this and think that I too should have been seated in the "family" car with my husband. Am I right about this?

Answer: Perhaps you should have been in the first car, but on this one occasion I think it was more important that the widow had with her the persons who could be of greatest comfort to her and I hope you will be charitable and forget any hurt feelings you have.

Telephone Courtesy
Dear Mrs. Post: When a man telephones a young woman at her house and she is not at home, is it proper to leave a message for her to call him when she comes in, or should he call her again?

Answer: He can leave a message for her to call him if he

Size Walls Before New Papering Job

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Question: We put on wallpaper with prepared paste and after several months it loosened. What caused this?

Answer: Either the walls were not thoroughly cleaned, or you did not coat the walls with a glue sizing before applying the wallpaper. A glue size should be applied on the walls when you do a wallpaper job.

Sliding Rugs

Question: My scatter rugs slide over my waxed floors in spite of rubber nonslip guards. The guards work only for a short time. What can I do?

Answer: Evidently your floors are thickly coated with wax. You probably wax the floors too frequently, or do not rub them hard enough to remove excess wax. If the rubber guards become slippery, wash off the accumulated wax on them with a thick suds of mild soap; then wipe with damp cloths and allow to dry.

High Polish
Question: How can I get a high polish on natural finished walnut furniture?

Answer: First, sandpaper the wood until the surface is "sat-in-smooth," then clean by wiping with benzine. Do this in a well-ventilated room, keeping all flames away from the inflammable liquid. If the furniture is made of a light-colored wood, apply a walnut oil stain.

Finish with three thin coats of top quality quick-drying varnish. The first two coats, when hard and dry, should be lightly sanded with very fine sandpaper, then dusted. For a polished finish, allow the last coat to dry hard, and then rub with finely powdered pumice stone on a piece of rubbing felt dampened in water. First dampen the felt, then dip it into the pumice powder and shake off the excess. Rub lightly with the grain of the wood, using no more than six or eight strokes in any one area. When finished, wipe with clean damp cloths and then with dry cloths. Top-grade furniture polish might be used afterward.

Please Queen of Hearts With Gift of Leather On St. Valentine's Day

Worried about what to give your fair lady on Valentine's Day?

A good place to go idea shopping is the leather goods counter or store. Here you'll find a wide range of possibilities, whether it be a sentimental or sophisticated, functional or whimsical, token or investment-type gift.

You can buy her a whole set of matching luggage, or if you wish to express a less substantial sentiment, a leather tidbit for her handbag.

The field of leather handbags offers a wide range of styles and prices. In the sentimental line, there are such styles as a white calfskin bag printed with posies—ideal for resort wear now and all summer long. Sophisticated choices include bags of new texture and color combinations, such as patent leather in hammered gunmetal with dove gray suede.

Versatile Hand Bags

More along the whimsical line, are suede bags in bright new colors such as flamboyant orange and bright turquoise. These novelty handbags include styles designed to hold knitting during the daytime and to fold into a clutch for evening. For practical use, choose a bag with one or two envelopes on the outside and tiered pockets inside. Handbags from such leathers as alligators, lizard or crocodile will last for years. Tidbits for inside milady's handbag include such gift ideas as clever stamp or coin holders, heart-shaped for Valentine's Day, or a full set of six or eight leather cases—for eyeglasses, coins, keys, bills, combs, lipstick, mirror and compact, cigarette case and lighter.

These handbag tidbits can be found in sturdy cowhide (embossed in a gold medieval design for a feminine touch), smooth calf leather which has been given an antique finish and decorated with a dainty raised crest design, and gold kidskin or snakeskin with glittering scales. The latter leathers are ideal for evening wear.

Leather Jewelry

Also in the token category is leather jewelry from bracelets and earrings to lockets. Leather jewelry will be a handsome choice if one's queen of hearts favors tweeds and cashmeres. A new leather jewelry version this year is a bracelet of leather links to match cuff-links.

Strictly on the practical side are special gardening gloves made of split-leather (so-called because it comes from the supple underside of the animal's hide and has many layers of fibers, thus guaranteeing protection from the thorniest bushes).

Lightweight airplane luggage—the result of a special process for tanning the cattlehide from which most luggage is made—offers another wide range of gift choices. Rawhide (so-called because it is specially treated but not tanned) is one smart version and is quite easy to keep clean. Popular colors this year run from champagne through all the fashionable beige tones to chocolate brown and black. Vivid oriental hues are seen in women's new luggage lines.

Culbertson on Bridge

East couldn't be blamed for shying away from a bid which as it happened, would have been remarkably successful in the deal below but at least he could have made things more difficult for the declarer by signaling less vociferously in the play.

The bidding (rubber bridge):

North's preemptive raise to game—the proper action, incidentally—worked out beautifully here, keeping East quiet with a hand that would have produced 11 tricks at either diamonds or hearts. On a "result basis," therefore it might be argued that East was overly

A Line of Visitors—Bundled up against the frigid weather—waited outside the main entrance of Appleton Memorial hospital Sunday afternoon to gain entrance to the building. timid, but let's not overlook a few salient facts. First, East could scarcely know that he would find the top clubs in his partner's hand, giving him both tricks and entries, nor could he assume that the missing honors in the red suits would be so perfectly placed for him. Even at that, of course, he would have had to make the right guess in diamonds (though on percentage that would not have been difficult).

Leading against the four-spade contract, West laid down the king, ace and queen of clubs and East seized the opportunity to give a very emphatic signal in the diamond suit, discarding the jack. This was quite interesting to the declarer. He knew that East was a nice honest player who invariably told the truth about his holding and that being so, South was in no doubt whatever about the location of the diamond king. That was all he needed to know. Ruffing the third club, he drew the one outstanding trump, cashed the diamond ace and then led to the diamond queen, throwing East in. East then had the choice of giving South a free finesse in hearts by returning that suit, or affording a ruff and—discard with a diamond continuation.

It was quite possible, of course, that South would have made the contract in any event, but then again, without East's guiding lamp, South might have elected to take the heart finesse, in which case East could win and exit safely with a heart. This would not be the best play by South but declarers have been known to err.

12,250 Tour Hospital In 2-Day Open House

Many Wait in Lines to Gain Entrance,
Steady Stream of Visitors View Building

About 12,250 people, probably a record crowd for an open house event in the Fox Cities, attended the 2-day open house at Appleton Memorial hospital over the weekend.

It was the first time the new building was shown to the public and the event drew a constant stream of visitors Saturday and Sunday.

According to Robert E. Griffiths, hospital administrator, the peak hour was from 3 o'clock to 3:30 Sunday afternoon when it was almost impossible to push through the lobby. It was still crowded when front doors were locked at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A few stragglers were allowed to come in after closing hours.

Stand in Line

He said, Saturday morning was another "good" time for visitors. At some points visitors were lined outside the building awaiting entrance.

At one point the Appleton fire department was called to check the tour route through the $2,000,000 building to see if it was being handled correctly in regard to fire safety. Routes received the department's approval, Griffiths said.

Tour routes were roped off and visitors were guided along traffic lanes by means of arrows. Hospital personnel were stationed at key points along the route to explain equipment and functions of various departments.

Members of the Appleton police department helped direct traffic in and out of the congested parking lot during both days and volunteers from the Y Men's club handled parking within the lot.

Although the hospital now has been formally introduced to the community, first patients won't be admitted until some time during the week of Feb. 17, Griffiths stated. The interim will be used to clean up the building and to orient personnel to their new jobs. The administrator estimated it would take between 10 days and 2 weeks to accomplish the task.

He added several elective surgery cases already have been scheduled for the first few days after opening and anticipated a pretty fair patient load for the first few weeks. An adequate staff will be on hand to administer to as many patients as are admitted during the first few weeks of functioning.

Police Make 20 Arrests in Month At Little Chute

Little Chute — Twenty arrests were made by village police in January, according to the report of Chief of Police Sylvester Vandenberg.

Illegal parking led the arrests with 12 violations, four were for speeding and there was one each for disorderly conduct, arterial violation, drunken driving and drunkenness.

There were 16 complaints received by police, nine warnings issued, seven accidents investigated, one larceny reported, two funerals escorted, two pellet guns impounded, one watch reported stolen, 22 street lights out and four doors of business places found open. Patrol mileage for the month was 2,280.

4 Survivors of Air Crash Still Listed as Critical

Munich, Germany — Four survivors of the air crash that killed 21 persons here last Thursday remained in critical condition today. Two were members of Britain's crack Manchester United soccer team.

Hospital officials said Kenneth Raymond, captain of the two-engine Elizabethan airliner, and Manchester forward John Berry both underwent operations to open their throats and that both suffered relapses.

Halfback Duncan Edwards and a woman passenger with a broken back also were listed as critical. Manager Matt Busby, whose team lost seven players, was reported improving but still not definitely out of danger.

The owners of the plane, British European Airways (BEA), disagreed meanwhile with a report by the West German transport ministry that the crash probably was due to heavy icing on the upper side of the plane's wings. BEA safety officer John Gibbs said the plane would not have taken off if its wings had been covered with ice, but he declined to say whether they had been checked for icing before takeoff.

The investigation is continuing, Gibbs said.

Lawrence Says: Khrushchev Key To Red Attitude On Conference

There's a Difference Between Diplomacy
And Attacks on West

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Bulgarian may write the letters to Eisenhower and Macmillan, but Khrushchev reflects the true attitude of the Kremlin toward a "summit" conference. There's a distinct difference between the polite language of diplomacy used by Bulganin and the hard-hitting style of the dictator of the vast Soviet empire when he talks about America to the Soviet people.

Most significant is the speech made by Khrushchev in his role as the leader of the communist party to a conference of "leading workers of agriculture" at Minsk on last Jan. 22nd. The full text has just become available here. The speech was delivered before America launched her globe-circling satellite but took into account that the United States also might soon have a "sputnik" in the air.

Sore Point
The address, approximately 14,000 words, is plainly an attempt to make a comprehensive rebuttal to the viewpoints of western countries. It reveals clearly that western criticism gets under the skin of the Soviet spokesmen. They show irritation, seem to wince under the verbal blows, and they come up with fantastic distortions in an effort to hold up their end of the debate.

What happened in Hungary

"I still have a sore point—and, of course, the west is blamed for exploiting it and even instigating it."
"Literally in three days," relates Khrushchev, "the counter-revolutionary bands in Hungary were routed and order was restored... of course there still are serious economic difficulties which are due to the activities of counter-revolution."
In Poland, the communist chief admits that "there still exist not a few difficulties" but says "measures are being implemented to strengthen the people's democratic regime."

Much space is devoted in the speech to the scientific achievement represented by the launching of two "sputniks," and the west is criticized for daring to imply that the Soviet leaders were trying "to frighten the governments of the western powers."

Nothing could be further removed from the Soviet mind, argues Khrushchev, but a little later on in the same speech he repeats one of his "we-will-bury-you" threats. After pointing out that the west still has no rockets for its bases in Europe and will not have them for two or three years more, he remarks:

"We have these rockets today and they can be aimed at any area of the globe for dealing a crushing blow at the aggressors, if they should attempt to unleash a new war."

Defines Aggressor
When the communist leader defines an "aggressor," he appears to mean any country that doesn't bow in submission to Soviet demands. But immediately after a few paragraphs of defiance and scorn, the Kremlin chief changes his tune and says: "Let us improve our relations. Let us trade, let us develop the scientific, cultural and sports ties. Let us meet and discuss in a businesslike manner the urgent international problems."

The communist party boss has a lot to say in scorn of westerners because they declare they believe in God. Khrushchev doesn't like the "atheistic" label pinned on him by western spokesmen but does nothing to indicate he or his followers have become believers in God. Instead he insists the westerners don't believe in God either and cites local wars in recent years—as if self-defense has been held sinful by religion.

Palpable Omissions
Most palpable are the omissions. After denouncing the one-time fascist governments of Italy and Germany and accusing the west of having instigated an attack on Russia by Hitler in 1941, the communist spokesman forgets altogether that there would not have been any World War II if Stalin and Molotov themselves had not made an alliance with Hitler in 1939 which gave military immunity to the Nazis on their own eastern front while they concentrated an attack in the west.

It is because of arguments of such duplicity that the world must be left to wonder what

Expect 10 Million Catholics Flock to Lourdes for Virgin Mary Apparition Centennial

Lourdes, France, — Roman Catholic pilgrims from all over the world are flocking to this Pyrenees town for tomorrow's opening of 100th anniversary celebrations of the day the church says the Virgin Mary appeared to St. Bernadette.

High sources said West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, currently vacationing on the Riviera, may attend pontifical mass that day.

But for many pilgrims there was no room. For almost two weeks, the leading hotel of the 607 hostellers here has been turning away daily some 50 visitors.

About 10 million are expected during this year long observance and organizers of the commemoration say room for them will be found in boarding houses and private homes, whose capacity is 50,000 a day.

On the eve of the opening, Pierre-Marie Cardinal Gerlier, primate of France and former bishop of Lourdes, declared: "How can we fail to stress the providential character of this new and immense fraternal assembly of all peoples in the same place where, through the love of a mother common to us all, the hope of a true peace among all men, over whom today hangs the frightful risk of war, can be awakened."

Glorious Occasion
"The centenary of the apparitions must not be only a soon forgotten glorious occasion. It must also cause a spiritual rising around the world which will answer the most imperious demands of our troubled epoch."

The most Rev. Leo R. Smith, auxiliary bishop of Buffalo, N. Y., led a pilgrimage of 42 Americans here for the opening ceremonies. Others came from South America, West Germany, Ireland, Italy and from all over France.

As preliminary prayers began near the shrine to whose waters the Roman Catholic church attributes more than 1,000 miraculous cures, it was learned negotiations are under way which will permit pilgrims from behind the iron curtain to attend.

Last month Stefan Cardinal Wysniski, primate of Poland, said he could not come, nor could his bishops, because of conditions in his red-ruled homeland. But it has been learned since that contracts have been made which will nevertheless permit Roman Catholics from Poland to come here during the anniversary year.

Church authorities said it was almost certain Pope Pius XII would fly here in a specially outfitted French jet in September, probably the 17th. These authorities said the pontiff would lead a procession of the holy sacrament and bless the sick who come to the holy grotto in hope of a miraculous cure. He would stay only for the day.

Voters of New Arab Nation to Support Nasser

Egyptian President
To Have Far-Reaching
Executive Powers

BY TOM MASTERSON
Cairo — Voters of Egypt and Syria will give President Nasser extraordinary powers Feb. 21 to run the United Arab Republic.

His powers as head of the state of the new union will be virtually limitless. They will be so broad that Nasser, if he wishes, can reach deep down into the internal affairs of the two provinces of the republic, Egypt and Syria, and control them.

Even though classified as a democratic presidential republic the new union will be more of an oligarchy, with authority vested in a few hands. Still, the forms of democracy will be observed by putting it all up to a plebiscite.

It is true no one would be foodhardly enough to rise up and oppose either Nasser or the formation of the republic, or even protest the provisional constitution which grants him so much authority. But to a great extent this stems from Nasser's great personal popularity in Egypt and Syria.

Immense Powers
Just how Nasser will exercise his immense powers remains to be seen. Also, no one yet has any inkling on how long he will retain them. He could decide to relinquish some of them once the transitional period of the merger is finished.

Nasser's extraordinary powers actually turn on one important authority granted in the provisional constitution. That is the authority to appoint. This he will have in abundance, appointing:

1. Cabinet ministers who will be responsible to him alone. The ministers will run all government departments.
2. Members to the national assembly, lawmaking body of the republic.
3. Chairmen and ministers to the executive councils which will run the internal affairs of the provinces of Syria and Egypt.

Moreover, he will define the

The Trane company, La Mutual Insurance company at Crosse, paid a quarterly 22½ cent cash dividend on 2,128,846 in Green Bay.

Among the company's home office personnel conducting the meeting were Alvin Braun, Jr., sales manager; Victor Mueller, assistant sales manager; William Coggeshall, fire claims manager; Robert Schroeder, assistant underwriting manager; and Richard E. White, public relations manager.

J. P. Hansen, president of The Fair department store now owned by Montgomery Ward and company, was elected vice president of Ward.

Lucien E. Oliver will become vice president in charge of the southern territory of Sears, Roebuck and company May 12, succeeding Charles H. Kellstadt, who becomes president. George H. Struthers will succeed Oliver as assistant vice president and general manager of the New York office.

Total earnings of the Thorp Finance corporation went over the million dollar mark in 1957 for the first time since the firm was founded in 1924, according to Francis J. Conway, president.

He said Thorp's total earnings for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30 were $1,278,694.

Clarence F. Watson, former engineering department manager, has retired after 38 years with Nekosa-Edwards Paper Company, Port Edwards, Wis., a producer of business papers.

Watson was graduated from the University of Wisconsin college of engineering in 1910. He worked for two power companies and saw service in World war I as an engineering officer before joining the Nekosa-Edwards organization in 1920. In 1933 he was named mill engineer and four years later was placed in charge of the engineering department when the power operations were established as a separate division.

He held the position of engineering manager until Jan. 1956 and has remained with the department since then in a staff capacity.

William C. Sense and Leslie E. Robinson of the Sense-Robinson Insurance agency, Appleton, were among independent insurance agents of the Home authority of the executive council.

This does not leave much, if anything, in which Nasser will not have direct or indirect control, and to date there has not been a voice raised in Egypt or Syria against it.

Neenah Legionnaires Flee From Hotel Fire

Neenah — Florian Radtke, 616 Jackson street, sixth district commander of the American Legion, escaped uninjured and unscathed from the Hotel Retlaw fire at Fond du Lac Sunday morning although he had to flee through a fire exit while firemen were bringing up hoses to combat the blaze.

Radtke, one of five Neenah men attending the state Legion mid-winter conference, was in a room on the second floor only 30 feet from where the fire broke out about 5:55 Sunday morning.

Menasha and Winneconne delegates had returned home after Saturday's session.

George Rundo and Jack McDeroy of Neenah were on the fourth floor. Kenneth Lewis fled through the windows.

Commander Charles A. Menasha's delegation returned home Saturday night and were on the third floor. They went back again Sunday morning to escape easily.

In that group were Commander Ed Corry of the Menasha post, Max Mertz, county 40 at 8 commander, V. R. Wassenberg and Sylvester Swederski.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nimse how bad the fire was and then got dressed and fled down the fire exit which was about 12 feet diagonally across the hall from his room.

Pushes Through Hoses

He had to push his way through firemen and hoses in making his escape. Heat from the flames already was taking accompanied back to Fond du Lac Sunday by Charles Luce his room and blistering the and Ervin Hendrickson.

Members of Painters Union Local No. 1091 from Neenah-Menasha lent a hand Saturday to paint the interior of the David Tovar home at Allenville which is being built for the motherless family of 12 children through efforts of the Dutch Uncles club. Welding both roller and brush above are, left to right, Joe Vandenberg, Gerald Peterson, Eugene Peeters, Lou Gamney, union president, and Richard Koruds, business agent. (Post-Crescent Photo)

2-Week Summer Camp Set for Boys' Brigade

1st Double Session At Onaway Island For Neenah Group

Neenah — The Boys' Brigade will camp for two weeks at Camp Onaway this summer. Jack Casper, Brigade coordinator, announced today. The Brigade has had a 1-week camp ever since it went to Onaway island more than 50 years ago, but the organization has grown so large that the 2-week camp is necessary to give every Brigader his share of outdoor life.

The older boys, in the eighth grade and over, will camp from July 19 to 26. The younger lads, in the sixth and seventh grades, will camp from July 26 to Aug. 2.

Camp Onaway is an island in the Chain O' Lakes near Waupaca. It was purchased a few years after the first camping trip by S. F. Shattuck for the kosh and from Menasha High school with the class of 1936. She was employed in the sales department of Marathon corporation.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Catholic church with burial in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Laemmrich Funeral home after 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and the rosary will be recited there at 7:30 and 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry U. Galassie, Menasha, and two brothers, Philip and Vincent, both of Menasha.

Twin City Deaths

Miss Helen Galassie

Neenah — Miss Helen A. Galassie, 39, route 2, died at 11:10 Sunday morning after being in poor health since last April.

She was born Dec. 5, 1918 at Oshkosh and had lived in Menasha since 1935. She graduated from St. Vincent school in Oshkosh and from Menasha High school with the class of 1936.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Catholic church with burial in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Laemmrich Funeral home after 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and the rosary will be recited there at 7:30 and 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry U. Galassie, Menasha, and two brothers, Philip and Vincent, both of Menasha.

Mrs. Lena Flanagan

Neenah — Mrs. Lena Flanagan, 88, 117 W. Wisconsin avenue, died at 11:30 Sunday morning after a brief illness. She was born Nov. 5, 1869 in the town of Harrison and lived in Milwaukee most of her life. For the last six years she resided with her sister, Mrs. Clara Becker, here.

Funeral services will be at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Westgor Funeral home here at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. Burial will be at Calvary cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home here after 7 o'clock tonight and the rosary will be recited at 7:30 to 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

Survivors are the sister and two brothers, Lawrence and John Ciske, both of Menasha.

Miss Bonnie Haugh

Menasha — Miss Bonnie Mae Haugh, 36, 946 Second street, died at 12:50 Sunday afternoon after being ill since September.

fer was completed in the form of a gift. The transfer was effected on the church's guarantee to maintain the camp, never to sell it, to keep it always as a youth camp, and to permit the Brigade to use it any time it wishes.

The church uses the island for youngsters from all over the state all summer, except for the Brigade camping weeks.

The use of the island is directed by a board of managers which includes representatives of the Presbyterian church and the Boys' Brigade.

Spring Road Class To Give Card Party

Jigsaw Puzzle in Shape of Heart Makes Fine Valentine

BY CAPPY DICK

A handmade valentine is today's fun-project. This is a special valentine that will entertain the receiver because it is a jigsaw puzzle.

To discover who it's from your friend will have to fit the pieces of a broken heart together as the boy is doing in Figure 3.

Cut a big heart from red construction paper. Next, make a folder from white paper. Place the big heart on the outside of the folder and trace around it with pencil. Go over the outline with red crayon and inside the frame print the words, "Assemble pieces in this space."

Beneath the heart print this verse:

"My heart is broken into bits
Like a ship in stormy weather.
But you can see how each piece fits
And put my heart together."

The verse is a challenge, of course, to the friend who receives this unusual valentine and he or she will lose no time solving the mystery.

The next step in preparing the valentine is to print your name on the red heart as in Figure 1. Don't print straight across because that would make it too easy to put the heart together. Instead, use irregular printing and slant it across the heart.

With scissors, cut the red heart into 10 or more pieces of irregular shape like the parts of a jigsaw puzzle (see Figure 2).

Menasha Man Fined $29 After Accident

Menasha — Harvey Kiesow, 33, 736½ Tayco street, Menasha, forfeited a $29 bond at the Menasha police station this morning for failing to have his car under control during an accident on Tayco street at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

According to the police report, Kiesow's car went out of control while going south of Tayco street and hit a parked car owned by Ralph C. Probst, 21, route 2, Hilbert. The impact drove the Probst car into another parked car owned by David M. Bailin, 30, 29 Winona court, Appleton.

Fire Destroys Oshkosh House

Oshkosh — Fire destroyed a house north of Oshkosh Sunday afternoon, it was reported today.

The fire started when Ken Frank, owner of the house, was underneath the building thawing out pipes with a blow torch. All the family's possessions also were lost in the blaze on Shorewood drive.

Loud Muffler, $2 Fine

Neenah — Robert E. Surprise, 23, route 4, Appleton, was fined $2 and costs for operating a car with a Hollywood-type muffler in Neenah by Justice of the Peace Mayhew Mott this morning. Surprise was arrested at 3:10 Wednesday afternoon in the 100 block of N. Commercial street.

Charged After Accident, Man Denies Guilt

Woman Passenger Hurt in Sunday Evening Collision

Neenah — Willard Kerner, 28, 1358 W. Prospect street, Appleton, pleaded innocent of inattentive driving this morning after the car which he was driving at 1:20 this morning collided with a parked vehicle and his passenger was injured. Justice of the Peace Mayhew Mott set trial for Feb. 27.

Kerner was driving a car which collided with a parked car owned by Reuben E. Toschner, 39, 515 Tayco street, Menasha, in the 700 block of S. Commercial street. Miss Pat Baker, 22, 331 Ahnapp street, Menasha, a passenger in Kerner's car, was still in Theda Clark hospital this morning with face cuts suffered in the accident.

Herbert A. Gibson, 69, route 1, Neenah, pleaded guilty of operating his car on the wrong side of the road and was fined $2 and costs by Justice Mott. He was arrested at 4:54 Friday afternoon at Main and Union streets after a minor collision with a car driven by Guy E. Arentsen, 34, 614 Caroline street.

Suggests Ways To Reduce Icy Street Dangers

Menasha — "The most important way to reduce the danger of driving on icy streets is to reduce driving speed," Menasha Police Chief Peter P. Clark said this morning.

Another way to reduce the danger is to have a good set of tires on the car with plenty of tread for slushy pavements. Clark pointed out. Chains are also needed for ice, deep or hard packed snow and will provide solid footing for easier starting and safer stopping.

"Chains will reduce braking distances by 50 per cent or more on ice or snow and provide the most reliable traction when severe conditions prevail. The National Safety council has proved this with its continuing series of skid tests," Clark said.

Clark stated that automobile braking distances on wet ice are twice as long as distances required when ice is comparatively dry. A car traveling 20 miles an hour will skid about 114 feet if the temperature is zero and 235 feet if the temperature is 30 degrees, he explained.

Pre-Lenten Dance For High Schools Brigaders Tonight

Neenah — A pre-lenten dance for high school members of the Boys' Brigade will be held tonight at the Brigade building. It was announced by Brigade Coordinator Jack Casper. The dance, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock, is for ninth and tenth grade Brigaders and their dates.

The sixth grade, which usually meets on Monday evenings, will suspend its activities for this week.

The seventh graders will study their fifth and final unit on first aid Tuesday night, and the eighth graders will continue their travel and transportation theme with a unit of study on air transportation.

The special interest groups will meet on Wednesday and Thursday and the Girls' Rifle club on Sunday afternoon as usual.

Traffic Violators Fined in Neenah

Neenah — Three traffic violators paid fines to Neenah police Saturday morning.

Ambrose J. Naleway, 34, 1704 Henry street, pleaded guilty of speeding before Justice of the Peace Mayhew Mott and was fined $10 and costs. He was arrested at 11:47 Wednesday night for speeding 40 miles per hour on Henry street.

Alvin F. Stratton, 50, 321 Sixth street, Menasha, was fined $5 and costs on his plea of guilty of passing in the face of oncoming traffic. Stratton was arrested at 11:43 Tuesday night on Main street.

Stanley E. Harp, 25, 420 E. Atlantic street, Appleton, forfeited a bond of $14.20 in lieu of his appearance on a charge of speeding 40 miles per hour in the 100 block of First street. He was arrested at 11:02 Friday night.

Menasha Rubbish

Menasha — Rubbish will be collected in Menasha's fourth district on Wednesday, City Health Officer H. O. Haugh announced today. The fourth district includes all the streets from Seventh street up to and including the northern city limits.

Prevention of Wintertime Ills

By: Upton X. Furman
Chiropractor — Neenah

1. Pay attention to your diet. Eat a well balanced meal — a meal that provides sufficient vitamins, minerals, proteins, starches, and fats.
2. Breathe as much fresh air as possible. Walk briskly in the open air with your body erect, every day if you can. Living rooms and work rooms should be as well ventilated as conditions will permit. Bedroom windows should be kept open at night.
3. Wear enough clothing to protect the body from cold and dampness but do not overdress, especially if you work in a warm room. Your clothing should allow some air to reach the skin.
4. Avoid exposure to drafts as much as possible, especially when perspiring.
5. For cleansing take a warm or tepid bath instead of a hot one. And it is always well to finish with cool water.
6. Avoid fatigue. Whenever conditions will permit get plenty of rest.
7. Try to keep your mind free from worry and fear. Mental strain causes tense muscles; tense muscles cause compressed nerves; compressed nerves cause lowered vitality; and lowered vitality is an invitation to disease.
8. Make periodic visits to your chiropractor to keep check on spinal column nerve interference which plays an important cause in disease.

Neenah Library

Story of Mackinac Bridge Unfolded in Two New Books

Neenah — A story of men and a spirit greater than the million tons of concrete and steel those men fashioned into the largest bridge in the world is unfolded in "Miracle Bridge At Mackinac," a new volume on the shelves of the Neenah Public library.

The story is told by two men proud of their work. One author is David B. Steinman, chief engineer for the five mile span, who directed its construction, and the other is John T. Nevill, a native of the Mackinac area whose pride is in the ownership of the bridge. This is Steinman's story put to Nevill's words, which give a character and personality to the gleaming red triumph over nature.

William Ratigan's "Straits of Mackinac!" is another book on the subject which also may be had at the library. Ratigan, historian of Michigan and the Great Lakes area, relates the story of the Mackinac and St. Ignace area and the five mile gulf between them. His volume tells of when the Ojibwas canoed the straits and history of the area through the construction of the great bridge.

Other new books of interest at the library this week are "An Epitaph For Dixie" by Harry S. Ashmore, executive editor of Little Rock's "Arkansas Gazette," Ashmore, who opposed Gov. Orval Faubus during the Central High school integration troubles, analyzes the transit from the old south to the new.

Dean Acheson's controversial "Power and Diplomacy," dealing with American foreign policy, economics, and military and scientific advantages is available this week at the library.

"Please Don't Eat the Daisies"

Jail Term for Neenah Vagrant; Fine Drunk $5

Neenah — William L. Meyer, 303 Gruenwald avenue, was sentenced to a 10 day term in the county jail by Justice of the Peace Mayhew Mott this morning. He was arrested at 11:10 Sunday morning in an E. Wisconsin avenue tavern and charged with vagrancy.

Arthur N. Lemke, 23, 802 E. John street, Appleton, pleaded guilty of drunkenness and disorderly conduct and was fined $5 and costs by Mott this morning. Lemke was arrested at 3:45 Sunday afternoon in a N. Lake street tavern and kept in the Menasha jail until his court appearance this morning. Witnesses at the tavern said that Lemke began a fight with the bartender when the latter refused to serve him more drinks.

Speeding Fine

Menasha — Reinhold Mayefski, 29, 609 Milwaukee street, Menasha, pleaded guilty of speeding 40 miles an hour on Racine street at 12:20 Saturday morning and was fined $10 and costs by Acting Police Justice Allen B. Adams this morning.

NO MORE WINTER HEATING PROBLEMS...

SKELLY FURNACE OIL WITH SK-12 ends 4 main causes of furnace failure

1. NOT THIS... (1) KEEP NOZZLES CLEAN! A pinpoint particle of dirt can clog a nozzle. SK-12 does away with sludge, carbon and foreign residue that clog nozzles and vital furnace parts.
2. NOT THIS... (2) KEEP FILTERS GUM-FREE! Filters do their duty longer, better with SK-12 guarding the system. Prevents dirty, gummed-up filters... keeps oil free from impurities.
3. NOT THIS... (3) KEEP FUEL LINES OPEN! SK-12 prevents rust and corrosion that could easily cause a major repair bill. Works from fuel tank to flame so your system operates at its most efficient, finest!
4. NOT THIS... (4) GET FASTER STARTS! Skelly Furnace Oil, with the highest BTU output known, burns completely! Plus SK-12 for a clean, unclogged system. Means quick starts... faster, fuller flame.

Neenah — "Behind the Iron Curtain" will be the topic of the Rev. Lowell Messerschmidt, pastor of Zion Evangelical United Brethren church, Batavia, when he speaks to the Neenah Homemakers club at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the YWCA. A Valentine tea will follow the program.

The Rev. Mr. Messerschmidt was a member of a group of 21 business and professional people who spent 28 days in the summer of 1950 studying the practice of communism in the Soviet Union. The group also spent 11 days in the satellite countries of Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany.

The study was sponsored by the First Methodist church of St. Francisco State college and was under the direction of the church dining room.

Dr. Alfred Fisk of that college will give a talk with colored slides. The speaker, who was born in Madison, is a graduate of North Central college, Naperville, Ill., and received his masters degree with a major in history from the University of Wisconsin in 1947. He has also completed his residence work on his doctorate in political science. He received a bachelor of divinity degree from Evangelical Theological seminary, Naperville, in 1951.

During World War I he was a civilian ambulance driver with the American Field Service in the Near East and Italy.

Miss Lorraine Denhardt, club president, will name a nominating committee during the business session for the March officer election. Mrs. Robert Kellett, tour chairman, will announce arrangements for members attending the Wisconsin Vocational Homemakers' club convention at Madison, April 17.

Mrs. Frank Radu is the program chairman and the tea is under the direction of the social and hospitality committees with Mrs. Alvin Schmutz and Mrs. Walter Kuehl as co-chairmen.

A potluck supper will be held at 6 o'clock Thursday evening at St. John school hall by the Rosary and Sacred Heart societies. Mrs. Donald O'Brien is chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. John Ostrowski.

Record 13th Straight Win

Defeat Pacelli
Of Stevens Point
By 57-35 Margin

Menasha — The Zephyr reserves had no trouble trouncing the Pacelli High school of Stevens Point junior varsity in the opener here Saturday night at the St. Mary gym. They came out on the strong end of a 57-35 score. This was their thirteenth consecutive win.

The first period ended with the junior Zephyrs far ahead with a commanding 19 to 0 lead but this lessened to only a bare six points when the half ended at 27 to 21 in the St. Mary favor.

Pacelli's reserves scored only four points in the third frame to 10 for the Zephyrs and then the host squad bounded ahead with 20 points in the final frame to 10 for Pacelli.

Bill Becker's 25 points on nine baskets and seven free throws led the scoring and Pete Vanderhyden came up with 16 on six buckets and four gift tosses. Becker got 10 of his points in the final period and seven in the opening quarter. Tom Tepp led Pacelli with nine points.

Twin City Cage Squads to Play Single Games

Menasha — The Twin Cities' three varsity basketball teams will play single games during the next six days.

Neenah will try to keep its share of the Mid-Eastern conference lead that it picked by defeating Two Rivers with an assist from Menasha in its win over Shawano. when it enters Thursday third place Kimberly Friday evening.

Menasha guns for its fourth straight win of the campaign at Clintonville against an improving Trucker squad the same night.

St. Mary will move outside the conference to play Manawa of the Central Wisconsin circuit there Tuesday night. It will be back in action next Sunday afternoon at Stevens Point as it attempts to avenge Saturday's 56-46 loss to Pacelli.

At the frosh level, Menasha entertains Roosevelt Thursday afternoon while Neenah travels to Kimberly to test the unbeaten Papermakers.

The Menasha Extension will attempt to break its two-game losing streak at Wausau Saturday night.

Trotters Take 2nd Loss; Dick Pagel Hits 18 for Losers

Menasha — The Racine Extension handed Menasha its second straight defeat, posting a 63-60 win at the Menasha high school gym Saturday night.

The loss gives the Trotters an 8-2 University of Wisconsin Extension center record. They are assured of a tie for the lead since Sheboygan and Marinette also had two losses going into their weekend games.

Menasha's scoring star, Tom Martin, is still sidelined with an injured ankle and didn't see any action.

The score was tied nine times in the first half before Menasha managed a skimpy halftime 23-22 advantage. The Trotters' biggest lead was three points at 18-15. The teams did most of their scoring in the first 10 minutes of the period. It was 16-15 (Menasha in front) at the 10-minute mark.

Zephyrs Bow To Pointers

Fall 56-46;
Get 3 Tallies
In 4th Period

BY ALLAN EKVALL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — Pacelli High school of Stevens Point had a little too much height for St. Mary's Zephyrs and the extra few inches separating their center, Bill Menzel, and the tallest that the Zephyrs could contribute, he loped bring out a 56 to 46 victory for the invaders on the Zephyrs floor Saturday night.

The Zephyrs took over many of the rebounds that bounced off the Pacelli backboard and some from their own hoop but there were occasions when Menzel's reach blocked off a Zephyr shot at the basket or held the ball out of Zephyr reach while passing to one of his teammates.

Coupled with Menzel's work was a Pacelli guard, Mike Sroda, who kept up a continual vocal whooping while on defense, and a forward, Jim Shuda, who dropped 20 points through the hoop.

The first quarter was evenly fought and was tied frequently until Stevens Point came from behind a 13 to 9 score to emerge ahead 15 to 13 as the quarter ended.

10 in a Row
Pacelli pulled farther ahead in the second quarter as it moved from an 18 to 16 lead to a score 10 points in a row, six of them on free throw combinations. The Zephyrs brought the half-time score to 33 to 26 but were still on the short end. The Pacelli cagers pulled further ahead in the third frame but the Zephyrs trimmed an 8-point margin down to five points on even-balanced scoring. They came to two points behind as Joe Rechner dropped in two long shots from the corners and scored a free throw. Pacelli again scored to finish that frame with a 47 to 43 edge.

Mike Copps dropped in a Stevens Point gift toss before Dean Schreiner added a basket. Menzel sank two free throws while Schreiner missed a double chance but scored on a third try from the charity line. Behind by a 50 to 46 score, St. Mary's moved into a full court press to get the ball from Pacelli which was playing a control game to safeguard the narrow lead. This led to five foul calls by Zephyr players. Pacelli scored on two of its six chances but was able to control the rebound from the free throws it missed, keeping the ball away from the Zephyrs and turning one into a basket.

St. Mary's was held to only Schreiner's basket and free throw in the fourth quarter which saw Rechner leave the game on his fifth foul early in that period, a foul that gave once on forfeit and St. Margaret Muenzel two of his five successful free throws. Scoring was fairly even onings.

weather) to run up a gaping 59-45 advantage. During a span of about six minutes, all the Vikes could produce in the way of offensive capital was one free throw.

In the final five minutes, the Vikes got their second wind, knocked 10 points off the Grinnell advantage and forced the visitors into a lead-preserving stall.

12 Out Of 20

Bill McClintock, stringbean 6-6 sophomore, did the most to further the visitors' cause. Deadly on pivot shots, McClintock put away 12 goals in 20 attempts to reap scoring honors. He whipped in his first five shots of the second half, keeping the Vikes at bay.

De Long, a tough hombre on long jumpers and set shots, made seven of 13 field goal attempts for the winners.

Close, former Appleton Terror star, continued to look like the answer to the Vikes' glaring need for a forecourt threat. In compiling his second 20-plus night in three games, Close maneuvered artfully, faked well and exploited his admirable touch around the boards.

The 6-3 Close dropped in 10 of 19 floor attempts and made three of five free throws. Grinnell led practically all of the first 84 minutes of play. Wood chucked in the first two Lawrence baskets, but thereafter the Kimberly backcourt stalwart was the victim of an accuracy slump that saw him miss all but one of his last 14 shots.

Take First Lead

Close took over and powered the Vikes to their first lead (14-13) enroute to sinking the first five shots he tried.

With Vike defenders accomplishing several steals and Willie Weber and Bob Blust joining Close in the scoring parade, Lawrence held the upper hand for the next nine minutes (except for ties at 24, 26 and 28).

Blust, an excellent playmaker and dependable shooter, combined with fellow sophomore Close on two slick pass-and-drive plays such as Lawrence fans hadn't seen for several years. Their snappy play brought cheers from a good-sized gallery of rooters and seemed to augur well for the future.

Blust's driving score gave Lawrence its final lead, 30-28, with 2:47 left in the half. Grinnell accounted for the final three pre-intermission goals.

The steady Jack Leatham poured in his first three shots of the second half—two on fast breaks—to help keep the Vikes in contention. Then, came the drought, as Grinnell outscored the hosts, 9 to 1, to take a 14-point lead. The Vikes, seeming to tire, lost the ball as often as they got shots away.

Gophers Jeopardize Michigan's Lead

Big Ten Enjoys Closest Cage Race Since 1934-5 Campaign

By The Associated Press

The Big Ten conference basketball race, showing few signs of opening up, could become tighter than a sailor's square knot following tonight's full schedule of five games.

Only league-leading Michigan (4-2) has fewer than three losses and the way things are going, teams with five losses — Northwestern (3-5), Minnesota (3-5) and Illinois (2-5) — aren't ready to count themselves out of the scramble for the championship.

Michigan's lead, however, is something in reserve, however, as it powered in nine straight points—six by Close and three by Bert Elliott—in just 1:54 of playing time.

Grinnell, whose lead was cut to 59-54, froze the ball for most of the final 24 minutes, and Lawrence had no real chance to culminate its comeback.

Lawrence, whose field goal accuracy rate was 32.7 per cent (22 for 67) has now lost 13 straight this season—10 of them in conference play. Grinnell, which shot 41.8 per cent, is 4-6 for league endeavors.

Lionel Hebert Wins Tourney Takes Tucson Open With '15-Under' 275; Don January Second

Tucson, Ariz. — Conservative golf gave Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., the championships of the $15,000 Tucson Open and sent him to the San Antonio Open this week richer by $2,000.

Playing his shots with caution after taking the lead on the second hole of the final round, the PGA champ came home with a 66 for the par-70, 6,434-yard El Rio layout. He had a 72-hole total of 265, 15 under par.

Don January, Eastland, Texas, finished with 69 for the round and a total of 267, for $1,500 second-place money.

John Barnum, Grand Rapids, came home with 67 and a 72-hole total of 269, good for third-place money of $1,200.

Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., the winner's older brother, birdied five of the last nine holes to finish with 65 and a total of 272. Ken Venturi, San Francisco, winner of the recent Palm Springs, Calif., and Phoenix opens and the pre-tourney favorite, Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., the defending champ, and Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., were also tied at 272. Each earned $862.50.

Nixon, McKinney And Davis Uphold Big Ten Prestige

East Lansing, Mich. — P. Glenn Davis, the Olympic star from Ohio State, should get a vote of thanks from the Big Ten for helping prevent a Big Eight runaway in the thirty-fifth annual Michigan State relays Saturday.

Davis won the 75-yard high and low hurdles in a meet otherwise dominated by entries from the Wheatland's country. His .08.9 in the high clipped two-tenths of a second off the meet record.

Davis covered the lows in .08.3, tying the best meet time for the distance.

Jesse Nixon won the 600 and Dan McKinney the 1,000 yard run for Wisconsin but Big Ten runners otherwise mostly ate dust behind surprisingly strong Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Viking Mat Team Bows To Redmen

The Ripon college wrestling team defeated Lawrence, 25-10, Saturday, in the Redmen's questa, Fla., the defending champ, and Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., were also tied at 272. Each earned $862.50.

Fred Swan, of the Vikes, pinned Jerry Herberman in 4 minutes, 16 seconds, of the 177-pound match. Other Lawrence points were scored by Jim Davis (13 on decision) and Bill Black (2 on draw).

The Ripon won the freshmen match, 14-10. Steve Seibold and Bob Smith scored pins for the Lawrence.

Mantle Gets 2 Hits In AL Stars' 4-3 Exhibition Victory

Key West, Fla. — The American league, led by New York's Mickey Mantle, defeated the National league, 4-3, before about 6,000 fans Sunday in an All-Star exhibition baseball game.

Mantle got two hits, drove in one run and scored one.

Cleveland's Jim Hegan got two singles and a double. Billy Martin of Detroit smashed two doubles. Stan Musial of St. Louis got three of the National leaguers' 12 hits. Boston's Billy Klaus, playing for the Nationals, rapped a home run off Bob Feller.

The game produced about $10,000 a major part of which will go to baseball's aid society for needy players.

Lahner Beats Keith Zuehlke At Eau Claire

Wins Central U. S. Ski Jumping Title Before 5,000 Fans

Eau Claire — Ted Lahner of Eau Claire, Wis., soared to the Central U. S. Ski Association senior jumping championship Sunday, beating out former national champion Keith Zuehlke of Eau Claire.

Lahner wore a metal pin in his shoulder to protect the collar bone he broke recently at Ishpeming, Mich., when he failed to win a berth on the United States FIS team.

Despite the injury, Lahner soared 183 and 177 feet for 219.5 points. His first leap was the longest standing jump of the day. Zuehlke placed second with 213.8 points on jumps of 178 and 169 feet.

A stiff headwind prevented the competitors from nearing the Hendricks hill record of 193 feet. A temperature of 4 above zero kept the crowd to 5,000.

Jerry Lewis of Duluth, Minn., who holds the hill record, placed fourth in the senior division. Wilbur Rasmussen, Ishpeming, was third. Bill O'Brien of Eau Claire, placed fifth and was named the most graceful rider, with 103.5 points on form.

Jon St. Andre, Ishpeming, won the junior title, sailing 176 and 165 feet and scoring 212.5 points. Last year's champion, Willie Erickson, Iron Mountain, Mich., did not compete Sunday.

Lloyd Severud, Eau Claire, retained his Central U. S. Veterans' crown, scoring 204.2 points on jumps of 172 and 168 feet.

Summaries:
Seniors — 1. Ted Lahner, Eau Claire, 183-177-219.5; 2. Keith Zuehlke, Eau Claire, 178-169-213.8; 3. Wilbur Rasmussen, Ishpeming, Mich., 173-174-212.7; 4. Jerry Lewis, Duluth, 168-165-211; 5. Billy Olson, Eau Claire, 155-170-210.7.
Juniors — 1. Jon St. Andre, Ishpeming, 176-165-212.5; 2. Tom Heinemann, Duluth, 168-166-203.4; 3. Butch Zelle, Eau Claire, 160-162-194.6; 4. Fritz Hiemann, Chicago, 157-149; and Rodney Olson, Duluth, 158-151, tied at 194.3.
Veterans — 1. Lloyd Severud, Eau Claire, 172-166-204.2; 2. Sverre Fredheim, Minneapolis, 152-144-189.3; 3. Tom Harrington, St. Paul, 149-140-182.1; 4. Jack Paquette, Iron Mountain, Mich., 138-130-179.1; 5. Ken Gundersen, Duluth, 135-138-178.6.

Hollywood — Lauro Salas, 129, Los Angeles, outpointed Noel Humphrey, 130, Charleston, W. Va., 10.

Frank Stranahan Shoots 8 Birdies Yet Goes 3 Over Par at Tucson

Tucson, Ariz. — Frank Stranahan had the most unusual round of the $15,000 Tucson open during the final 18 holes Sunday.

Stranahan had eight birdies on the par-70 El Rio course but carded a 73.

He shot par on only one hole. On the first nine, he had a triple bogey, four bogies and four birdies. On the back nine, he had four bogies and four birdies.

Delany Wins Millrose Mile In 4:04.6

New York — Ronnie Delany, the rollicking Irishman, is still an unbeaten miler.

Delany, the Olympic 1,500-meter champion from Villanova, now has won 19 mile races in a row indoors, including his 4:04.6 effort Saturday in the Millrose games.

He had a 30-yard victory over George King in the Wanamaker mile.

The failure of Ira Murchison and Dave Sime, were the main surprises in the Millrose meet.

The 60-yard dash was supposed to be a battle between Murchison and Sime. Instead, Murchison was shut out in the semifinal and Sime could do no better than fourth in the final.

Lt. Ken Kave of the U. S. Army won it in 6.2 after tying the world record of 6.1 in the semifinal.

Iron Mountain Jumper Wins Eastern Crown

Rumford, Maine — James House, Iron Mountain, Mich., won the U. S. Eastern Ski Jumping championship Sunday with two record-breaking jumps of 206 and 211 feet at the Chisholm Ski club winter carnival.

House, soon to leave for the Federation Internationale de Ski meet in Finland, broke the mark of 202 feet set by Art Toke, New York, last year from the 55-meter lip.

College Basketball Mickey Crawford Meets Gonzales

By The Associated Press
 Mickey Crawford, 23-year-old Saginaw, Mich., boxer, hopes to continue his climb toward a national ranking tonight by making "Tex" Gonzalez his second 1958 victim. They meet in a 10-round match at St. Nicholas arena in New York.

In his only 1958 start, Mickey moved up to the middle-weight class to whip favored Chico Vejar. As a welter, he lost one in 11 bouts last year, that one to Ralph Dupas.

Gonzalez, 24, is a South Orange, N.J., fighter recently discharged from the army.

Jeannette Bopp Takes Lead in State Pin Meet

Milwaukee — Jeannette Bopp of Milwaukee rolled a 9-game total of 1,629 Sunday, putting her name atop three Class A divisions in the Wisconsin Women's Bowling association tournament.

The Milwaukeean's total gave her first place in Class A all-events. Her 585 in singles put her in a first-place tie with Ann Pavia of Milwaukee, and her 539, paired with Helen Braun's 600, forged a new lead in Class A doubles.

Kenosha's Margaret Coleman and Cleo Denio combined for 1,044, good for third place in Class A doubles. Lee Morgan and Irene Cress of Kenosha took first place in Class D with 832.

Nadeane Yogerst of Menomonee Falls rolled 597 and took the lead in Class B singles.

Pinky Lanes of Milwaukee grabbed first place in Class A team rolling, posting a total of 2,733.

Sturgeon Bag Light as Cold Cuts Into Kill

shocks although this writer noted many were unoccupied Sunday.

A cutting wind and bone-chilling air penetrated even the heated huts. The layer of insulated underwear and woolen garments we wore failed to keep out the creeping cold whenever we left the shelter of car or hut.

Cloudy water conditions, too, helped reduce the opening weekend kill.

Most fishermen were working over 16 to 18-foot depths and visibility rarely went beyond 10 feet. This condition can change quickly, lakemen say, and visibility may improve sooner than the weather.

A good concentration of fishing huts at Fairy Springs had failed to produce a sturgeon by Sunday afternoon. One fisherman, with his wife and young son, quit the lake by mid-morning Sunday after he had lost two ice spuds in the depths of the lake.

One slipped through his chilled fingers and the other dropped clear when a rope attached to his wrist broke.

Little Lake Butte des Morts, open for sturgeon for the first time this year, was all but ignored by spearsmen thus leaving Lake Winnebago to bear the brunt of fishing pressure. Lakes Winnebago, Poygan and Big Butte des Morts were closed by the conservation department this year on the strength of survey results which the department said, indicated there were too few legal size sturgeon in those waters.

Sturgeon spearsmen have until March 1 to fill the 1-fish limit. Conditions will have to improve a great deal for many to meet with success.

All together, it was the type of opening to make all but the most dedicated fishermen years even more strongly for spring, a casting rig and a go at the walleyes.

Sailer Wins Combined Ski Titles

Bad Gastein, Austria — P— Australia's Toni Sailer won the downhill and alpine combined titles in the World Skiing Championships Sunday.

Bud Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., fell at the last of 17 control gates, pushing him back to seventh in the combined title ratings.

Lucille Wheeler of Canada and Sally Deaver of White-marsh, Pa., finished one-two in the grand slalom, closing event of women's competition.

West Takes Over

Jones Replaces Talbert As U. S. 'Cup' Captain

Jones replaces 230 Sports

New York — The West, Tennis association—the sport's ruling body — has taken control and eased Bill Talbert out of the Davis cup captaincy.

It also reopened the question of an "open" tournament.

In a surprise move Sunday, apparently aimed at ending Eastern domination of the USLTA, Perry T. Jones, long-time czar of West coast tennis, was named Davis cup captain, succeeding Talbert, who had served since 1953.

The West has been opposed to the East's handling of America's tennis fortunes and the naming of Jones was apparently the coup in its rise to power.

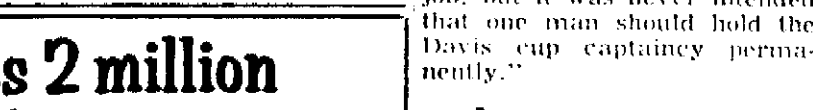

The announcement was made by Victor Denny of Seattle, newly elected president of the association, who at the same time disclosed sweeping changes in the administration of the organization.

Denny said his group would continue to explore the possibilities of an open tournament—which would match amateurs and professionals.

In Los Angeles, Perry dodged direct questions about his plans for reviving America's Davis cup hopes of dethroning the long-reigning Australians.

Denny said he had personally appointed Jones but added that the decision was no reflection on the work of Talbert.

"We thought," said Denny, "that Talbert did a marvelous job, but it was never intended that one man should hold the Davis cup captaincy permanently."

Iolan Wins Ski Crown

Leonard Haroldson Junior Titlist in Oconomowoc Meet

(From AP Dispatches)

Iola's Leonard Haroldson won the junior division championship in the twenty-seventh annual Oconomowoc Ski club jumping tournament Sunday in Oconomowoc's Devil's Hollow.

Haroldson soared 92 and 94 feet and scored 126.1 points.

Rolf Stendahl of Madison won the senior championship and made the longest jump of the day.

Stendahl's second jump of 110 feet was the best leap of the meet. He led the field on form with 65.5 points. He sailed 105 feet on his other jump and won the title with a total of 145.5 points.

Runnerup to Stendahl was Jack Stantz of Madison, who scored 137.4 on jumps of 102 and 99 feet.

Tommy Erickson of Iron Mountain, Mich., won the Class B title, scoring 135.4 and jumping 102 and 105 feet.

John Rudow of Milwaukee's Thunderbird Ski club won first place in the veterans class.

Duluth's Kotlarek Wins Class B Title

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. — Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, Minn., won Class B honors in the North American Men's Senior Ski Jumping tournament over the weekend on leaps of 233 and 223 feet for 233.5 points.

Get Keotane-Clean "Hot Spark" Starts

With Skelly Supreme, The "Hot Spark" Gasoline:

It's almost like having someone warm up your engine ahead of time, the way you start when Keotane in Skelly Supreme "unglues" carbon and lead, as you drive, to keep your spark plugs "hot spark clean"

WHEN you go out to start your car on a cold winter morning, the air is cold... your engine is cold... your gasoline is cold. And if you park outside, it's even colder! To start fast, you need a clean hot spark. To get a clean hot spark, you need clean spark plugs. That's why you need Keotane.

Because Keotane dissolves gum, it "unglues" dirty carbon and lead from spark plugs as you drive. A 10,000-mile spark plug that's Keotane-Clean shoots a hotter spark than a 3,000-mile plug fouled with carbon and lead.

With Keotane-Clean spark plugs, you get Keotane-Quick "hot spark" starts, morning after morning, all winter long.

Wouldn't you, too, like to have that kind of peace of mind as a reward for just switching gasolines?

Because Keotane also gets your car's carburetor, combustion chambers and other vital engine parts Keotane-Clean, tests show Keotane gives you an average of 12.7% more mileage, 14.6% more horsepower output and the performance effect of 3.1 extra octane points. These and other benefits add up to 6.1c extra value per gallon—at no extra cost.

Your nearby Skellyman invites you to drive in today for Skelly Supreme with Keotane, the "hot spark" gasoline.

Only Skelly Supreme Gasoline Gives You 6.1c Extra Value Per Gallon with Keotane

6.1c makes other premium gasoline expensive to use;
6.1c makes any regular gasoline expensive to use;
6.1c makes any "cut rate" gasoline expensive to use.

Which Will Start Faster?

Dirty 3,000-Mile Spark Plug?

Keotane-Clean 10,000-Mile Spark Plug?

In only 3,000 miles, even new spark plugs can build up heavy deposits of gum-sluck carbon and lead. This unwanted "insulation" makes starting slow and agonizing, and wears down your battery.

The "hot" spark you get from a Keotane-Clean spark plug quickly ignites even a cold mixture in a cold engine on a cold morning. You get Keotane-Clean "hot spark" starts—and you save your battery.
